SORRY TO COME

The daily events of summer suddenly came to a close.

Somehow the every day fun, like lying around the pool and playing tennis were just memories. We began the drudgery of school. We are sorry to come.

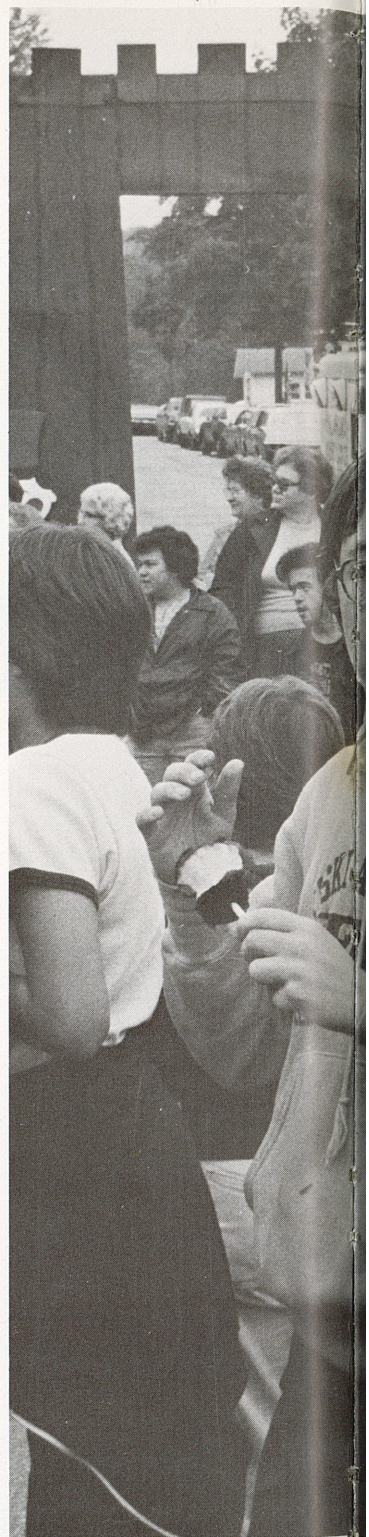

Sorry to come because . . .

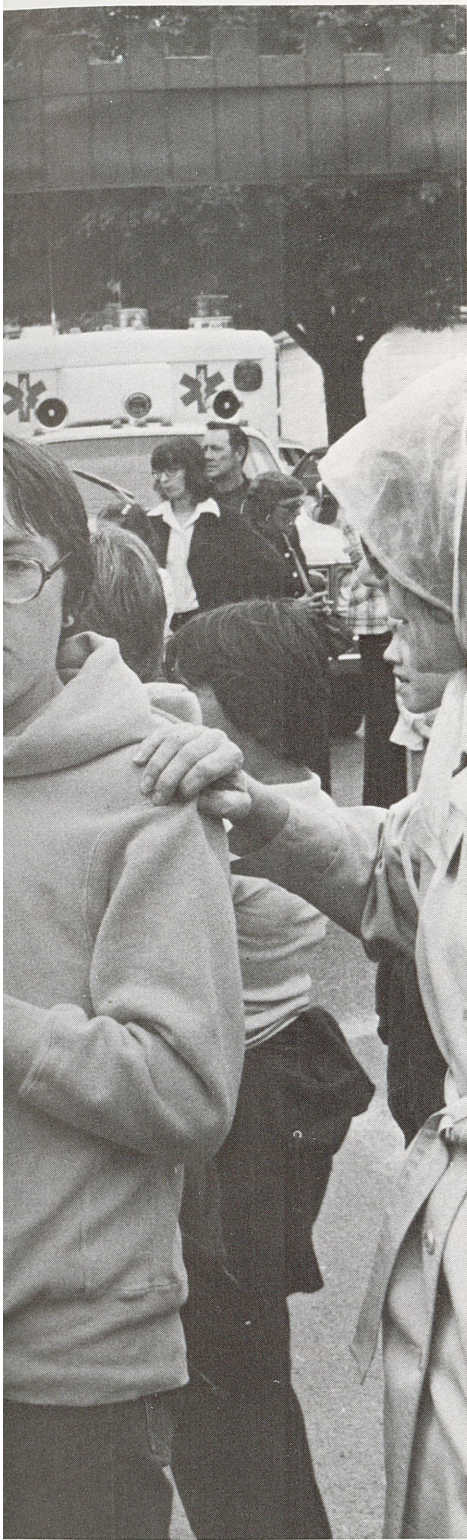

- . . . flaking off that hard earned tan that took three months to get.
- . . . missing All My Children and Days of Our Lives.
- . . . because friendships will never be as close as the ones made on the busrides between Amsterdam and Bruges.
- . . . you know the Avonmore festival will be your last time to party.
- . . . we enjoyed lying around in the hammock although our parents couldn't wait until the first day of peace without us.

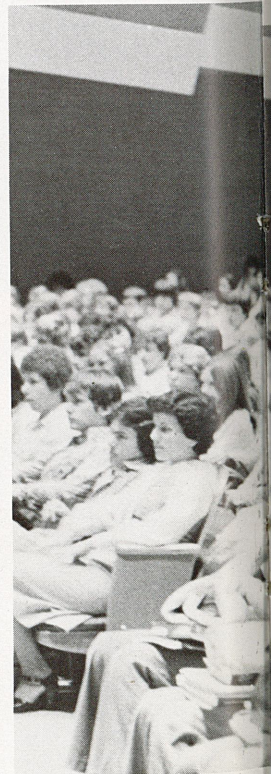

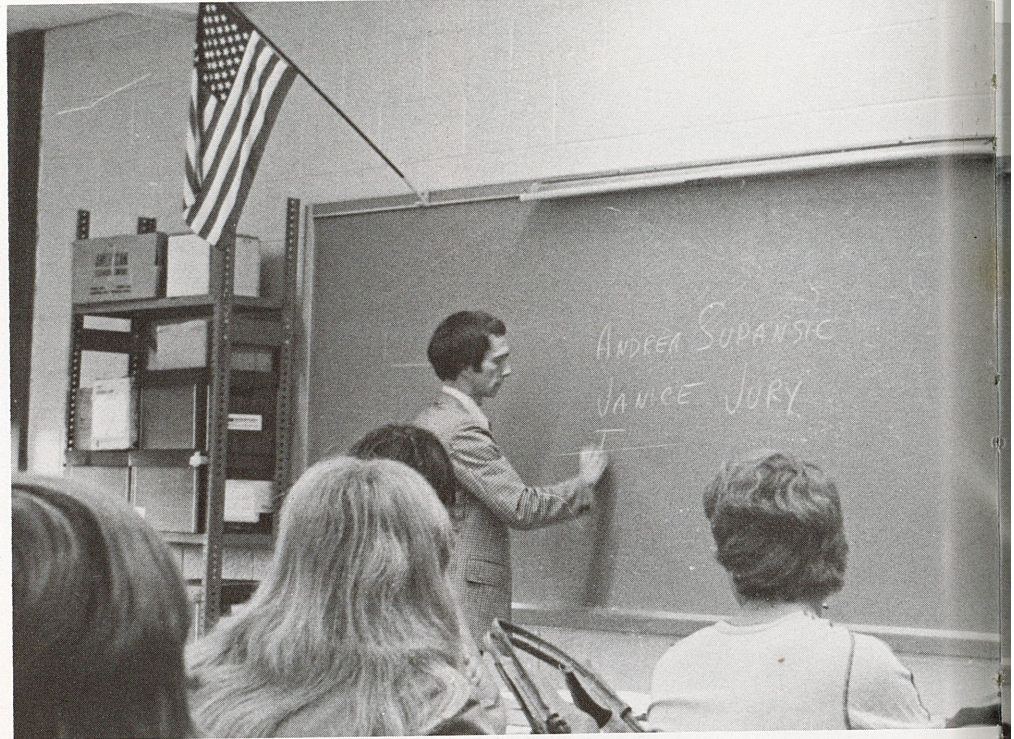

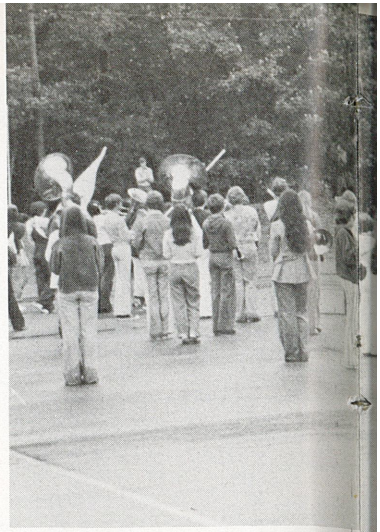

Wouldn't it be wonderful to have just one of those, "Oh, I'm so bored I'm going to go out of my mind" afternoons back.

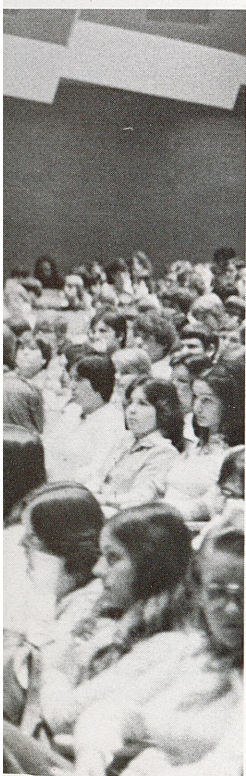

Sorry to come because . . .

- . . . morning comes terribly soon when it means getting up an hour early to get the "natural look".

Sorry to come because . . .

- . . . sunrises were made to be seen from your bedroom window, not from your homeroom window.
- . . . it means giving up your morning "Wheaties" for a piece of toast on the run.

Sorry to come from the monotony of the routine . . .

- . . . our schedules find it hard to adjust to having practice from 3 to 6.
- . . . having to elect officers; homeroom officers, class officers, club officers.
- . . . rain never missing its Friday night performance.

Sorry to come when every year begins the same way . . .

- . . . No more late, late shows because your bus comes very early, early.
- . . . the initial shock of seeing your friends in something other than shorts, gym trunks, or cutoffs although you know it won't last past the first day.
- . . . being reacquainted with your long lost friend—DT.
- . . . because as school starts all the fun things in life close, swimming pools, drive-ins, and week day pizza shops.
- . . . hearing crack, snap, buzz, and now for the morning announcements.

to come because . . .
 Your first test is coming up and you don't know what your new teacher is going to ask.

There is no short cut in doing an accounting assignment.

Memorizing presidents' life histories aren't your idea of fun.

You really don't mind learning new things; it's just having to use brains that bothers you.

to come when it means . . .

actually having to do some work in the library.

Learning the right way of doing things like pausing in the correct places when saying the Pledge of Allegiance, even though it's contrary to what you've been saying for the last 11 years.

Sorry to come . . .

- . . . the unforgettable twang of bow string as it stings your forearm.
- . . . knowing that the day will come when you will have a hole in your sock and no tennis shoe to cover it.
- . . . wondering if that rumor about having a conditioning day in gym class, including a 12-minute run could really be true.
- . . . staking your claim for a lunch table on the first day.
- . . . defending it the second.
- . . . the never-ending battle with the famished food machine that eats nickels, dimes, and quarters, but often gives nothing in return.

then again there are those times when it does try to comply with your order only to get stuck half way through the turn and both your potatoe chips and stomache are left hanging!

Sorry to come when it means . . .

- . . . knowing that anything assigned at the beginning of the nine weeks will never be until two days before it is due anyway.
- . . . "getting shocked" back into the routine of following the rules.
- . . . missing "Charlie's Angels" to study for a chemistry test.

to come because . . .

there was no heat in the school,
but we did love that snow that kept us home in bed—where we belonged!

we were not particularly eager to reinstate old student-teacher relationships.

sometimes it seemed like the whole week was composed of rainy days and "Mondays".

Time after time we thought back to those glorious days of sunshine and boredom.

But then we realized that we were not the only ones
in this predicament

so we decided to put our best foot forward and take life as it came.

This year was going to be "one of the best years of our lives". We were sorry to come, now we are sorry to go . . .

Feelings

All eyes on you as you solemnly walk across the field, that is if solemn also includes being on the verge of tears...

Forcing your legs across the field when they want to run the other way...

Or the impossible task of keeping a straight face...

Preparation

Trying to find an escort who's not a jock...

15 trips to the mall, 28 gallons of gas, and a $100 outfit...

Washing your hair at 2:30 and still not being ready at 3 o'clock...

Those never ending pictures for Yearbook... newspapers... and what seems to be the whole world...

Epilogue

Finding out that you're 'HER'...

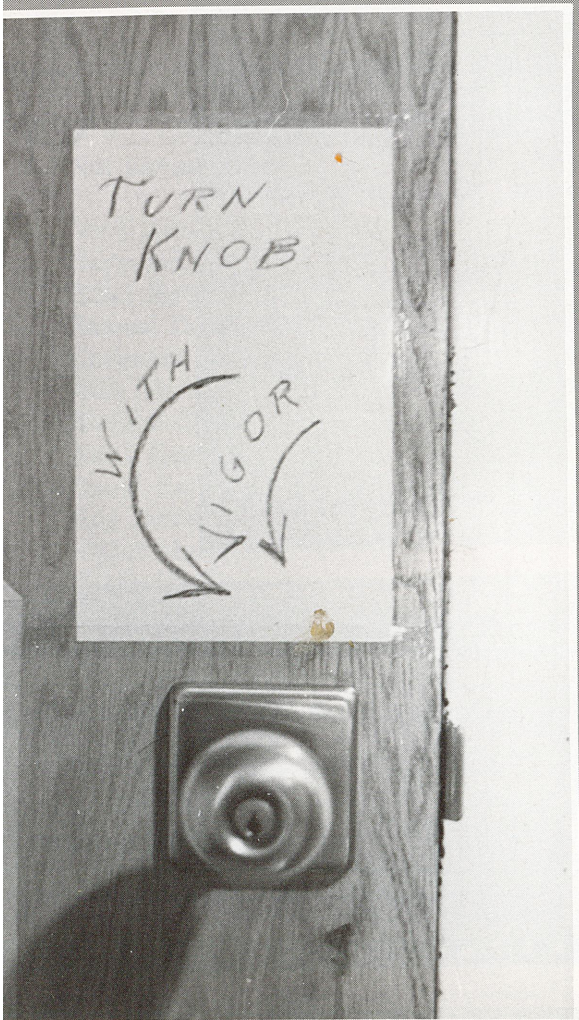

getting congratulated from anyone and everyone...

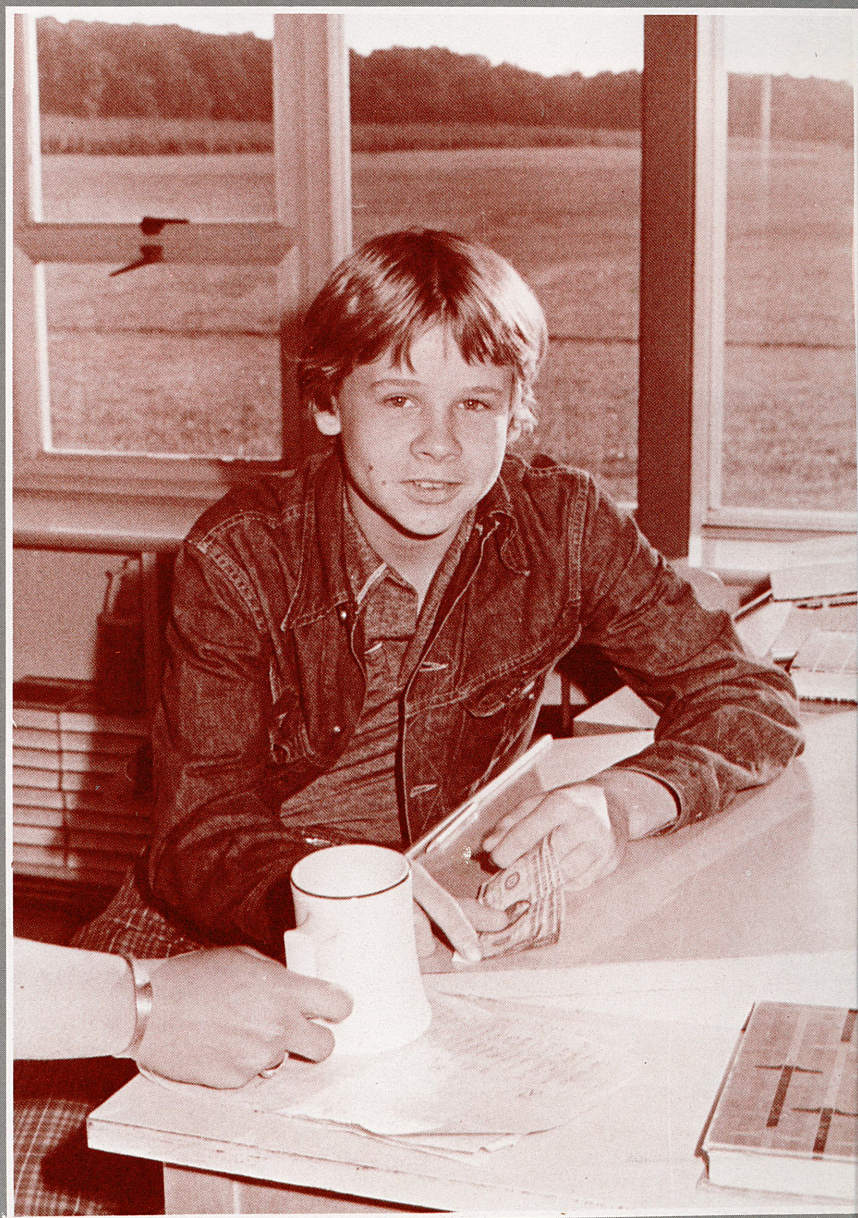

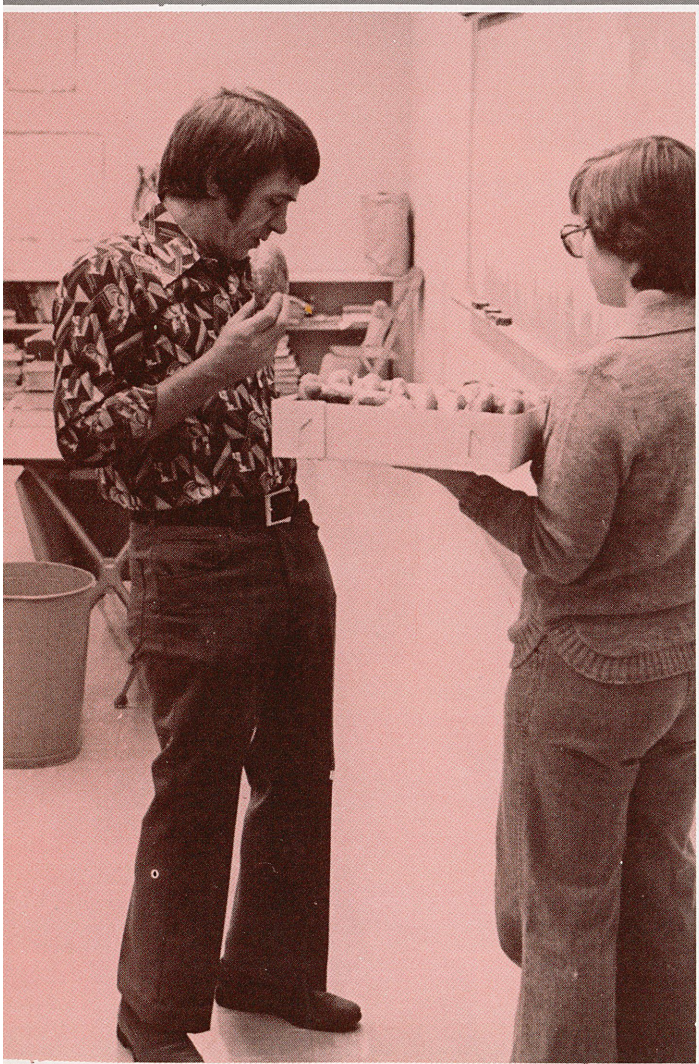

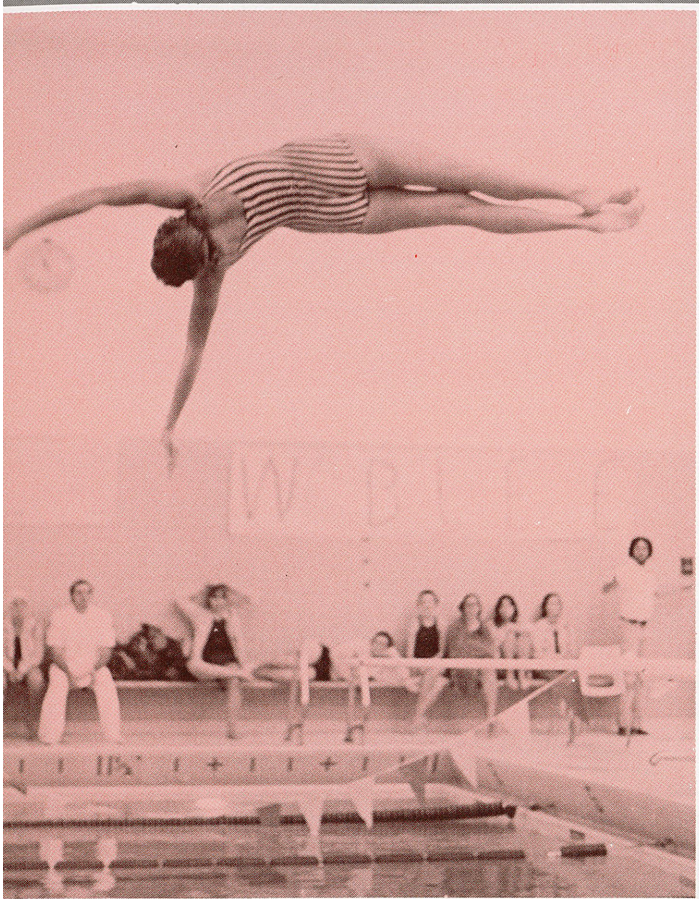

remembering this, one of the most treasured nights of your life...

We are the class of '78, next year's graduates, but this year we were more concerned with getting our class rings, choosing colors, mottos and flowers, and the sale of pecan logs. All of our activities had transfer our group of "inbetween people" into a class with its own identity. We got the hang of hanging out in front of lockers, and didn't hurry quite so fast last year when the teachers told us to move along. We were proud to see that gleam in the eyes of a sophomore upon seeing our rings. A few of us even forgot our insecurities and met some "tough" seniors. Others even found the right way to tell an uncertain tenth grader the wrong way to go. Having passed through two years of the Big K, we have learned all the essentials and acquired all the necessities required to become a senior, and even some other little pieces of knowledge that we managed to pick up on our own.

CLASS OF '79

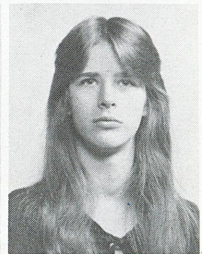

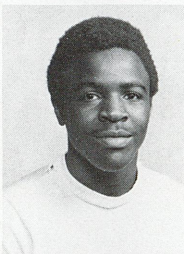

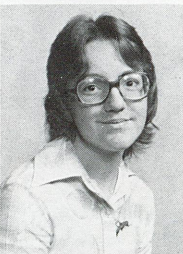

Are
mores "The Class Of 79"
his year we were Vandergrift, ton, and Allegheny, always ng against each other, trying e which school was best. But r we joined forces and became erclassmen at the "Big K."
ng to keep our dignity as we ly made that awkward change and bad to young and restless.
paranoia sets in after forgetting es for two weeks. There were ualities that set us apart as ores like using the hall pass only ssities. Sitting in homeroom so get DT. Wanting to stand and a pep assembly but your knees ldn't hold you.
o matter what happened, we (somehow) and we will always er this year as our first year at g K."

nearings part and performing is tour was divided simply by landing in Brussels, Belgium.
e we had to learn to accept the way of life, such as eating a bun for breakfast or avoiding per-lashes with the bus drivers so t drive the bus over a suitcase—n to paying five francs just to will! But things always seemed to work out though, because towards the end of the tour, instead of singing “pathetic joys, we hit those lofty ideals by taking home silver and bronze medals from the international competition. We thought these adventures would end right there, but with a visit from “Rudy”, we realized that we must have made some impressions as the ambassadors of goodwill!

1. Practice makes perfect.
2. Rudy and Mr. Silvestri chat over lunch
3. Packing for the plane trip to Europe.
4. Rudy is glad to see his friends.

1. Trumpets practice a march by Sousa.
2. Rudy turns to greet friends from the trip.

Despite recorders, carts, and projecters, thrown here and there through our learning resources room, we still managed to make it, (to a great extent) our home away from home. This year S.A.M. joined our forces of confusion which gave us the ability to do anything if we put our minds to it.

This year we even sold tapes of the Marching Band Review and the Messiah to pay for new equipment. Not to mention that half a box of donuts we bought every Tuesday! Together we all strived for the same thing . . . provide a service for the teachers and the students. We added a little excitement at the Big "K".

Symphonic Band

A few words synonymous with "symphonic band?" Just to name a few: Nervousness, Frustration, Fear, Humiliation, and Practice (practice and more practice) . . . Somehow, even after hours and hours of playing those runs (particularly the ones in "Festive Overture"), they never sounded "even" enough to please Mr. L. Surely this question was asked many a time in the minds of the members of this group: "Is it really worth all this pain and aggravation?"

No one could ever seem to predict the time, place, or day when Mr. L. would decide to "go down the line." And then there was the anticipation—having to sit in your chair and listen to your friends playing individually, and knowing that you were next. You had one chance to play your part. And if, by chance, you messed it up, all those hours of practice would mean practically nothing. It must have been kind of funny to have watched us sitting there waiting to be tested. Some people would stomp their feet in a kind of nervous, rhythmic pattern; some people would finger the notes on their "horn", just to see if they could really play it (most of the time it was then that they realized that they couldn't play it!); and others would merely sit around and look very sick . . .

"Is it really worth all this pain and aggravation?"

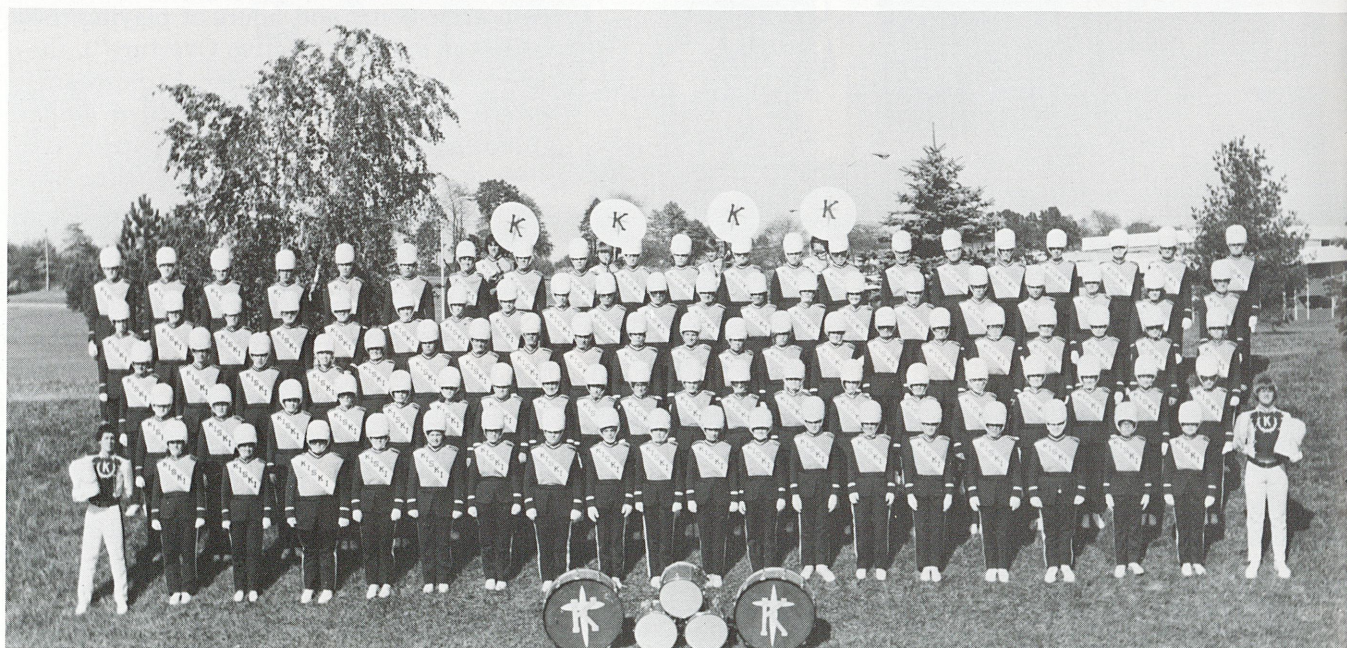

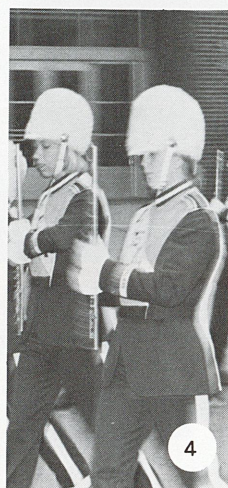

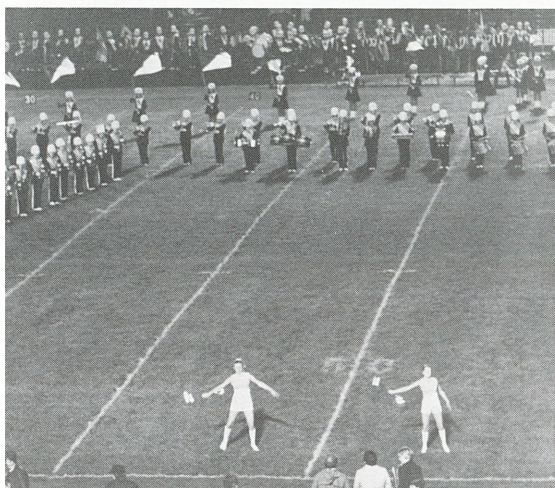

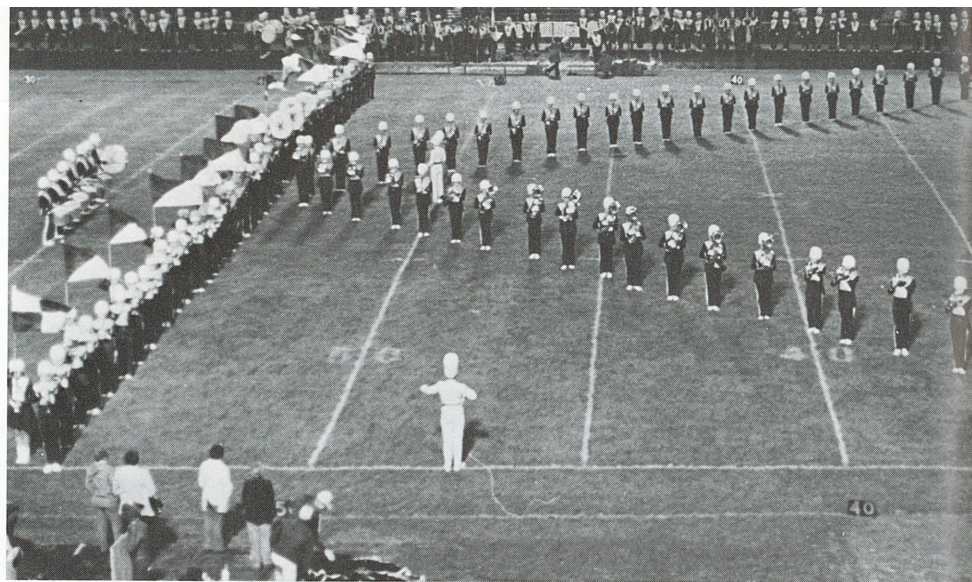

There were days when just as you thought that you sounded pretty good, you'd hear, "That's terrible! 'Lot of individual work needed on this kids!" And then there were days when it sounded bad and you knew it! (Mr. L. more than likely wished that he would have been a doctor on those days.)

"It it really worth all this pain and aggravation?"

Finally, came the days when it sounded pretty good (even by Mr. L's standards). And it got even better . . .

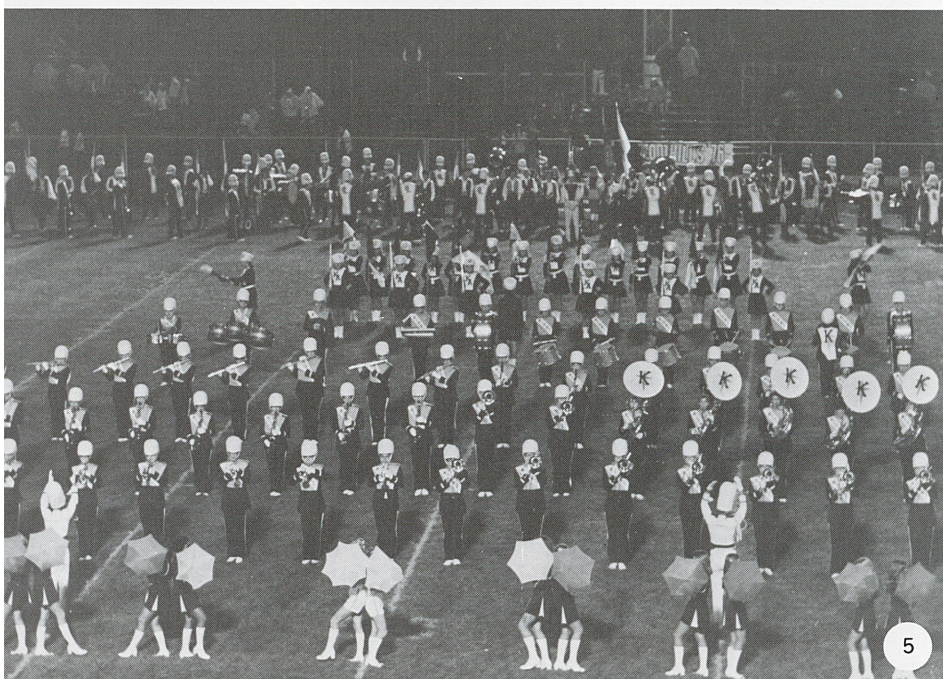

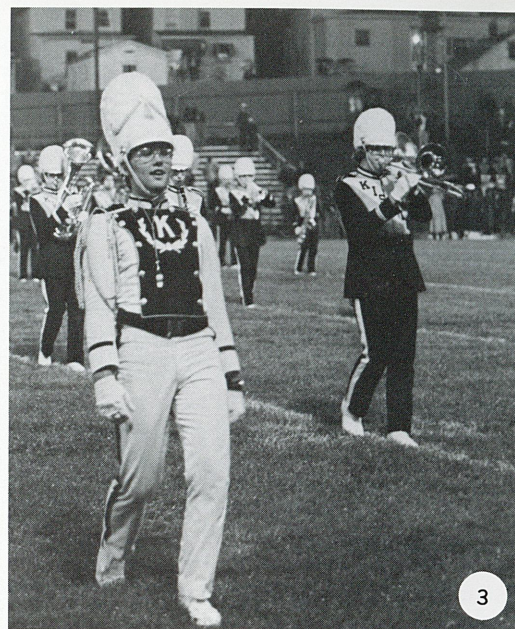

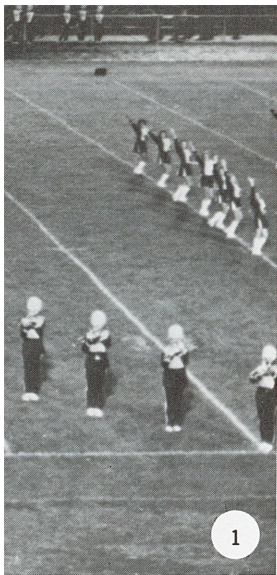

"We can reach our goal. Yes, it's worth every bit of pain and aggravation . . . (almost)".

"Straighten those rows!", "Pick up those feet.", "March with some style." To the members of the Marching Band, those commands are only too familiar. Somehow Mr. Botti never stopped pushing for improvement—he wanted "140%" and he intended to get it (at almost any cost). Often Mr. C., Mr. L., and Mr. Botti would explain that we were all tired, themselves included, but somehow it always seemed like it would have been much nicer to be standing up on that platform with the band directors, rather than down in the parking lot on the scorching hot pavement. There was so much hard work put in by every member of the marching band (not to mention the directors) only a band member (or director) could understand how much work was involved.

But then there were times that always seemed to make it all worthwhile. Hearing the announcer (at football games or competition) say, "And now ladies and gentlemen, the Big K!" seemed to enable us to pick up our feet and point out toes, even on the coldest night. Seeing our football team score the winning touchdown made us play the "Cavalier Song" louder and more forceful than ever, even in the midst of what seemed to be the world's hardest downpour. The biggest benefit was being able to learn to cope with competition. Seeing a terrific band out there on that field meant that we had to go out there on that field and show the audience what "Kiski Pride" was all about. We were all one united group, and we would always hear the band directors say, "Good job kids." That's what made everything worthwhile.

really had our work cut-out for us. We had to live up to the rumors (spread) that we were going to be the best Color Guard Kiski ever saw.

Two weeks of band camp were just the beginning. With "Gomer" and his "style", Debbie losing her contact (that she didn't have) in the middle of practice—there were all the hints thrown around to buy the seniors roses for prom night.

Who could forget our lovable rifles? They shocked everyone when they earned their place in the Hustle.

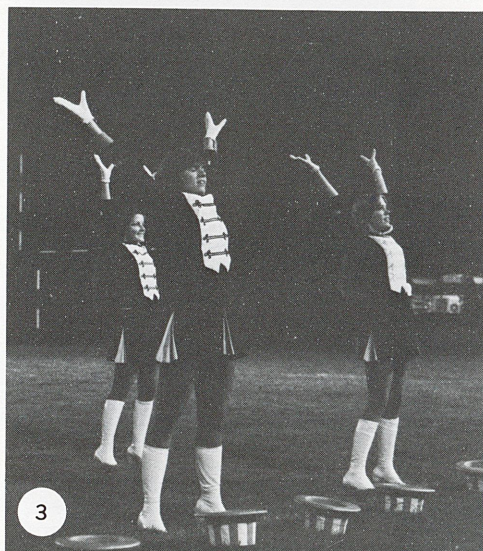

And a lot of surprises in our shows. Nothing could match Cindy Z's performance at one of the shows when her outfit was sized to fit.

"Majorettes, you're out of step!" Most of the majorettes agree that Mr. Bo's excess (probably nervous) energy was used in the form of yells and screams, ordering them to "Hurry up" or "get in step".

All the majorettes knew that there were definite advantages and disadvantages to being a "Big K" majorette. First, was the responsibility of being the "lucky" one (that's what you could call it) ones to perform directly in front of the audience at half-time shows. Even on nights when it was cold, windy, and down-pouring, the majorettes were expected to be cheery and smiling (at least on the outside . . .). Remember the rainy, windy (miserable) night when a lot of the umbrellas that the majorettes used in "Send in the Clouds" turned inside-out? Another big responsibility came to Sheri Lewis and Karen Callahan when they had to twirl batons with fire, in front of the audience (alone, surrounded by the band and a very unpredictable, nervous horse. A lot of credit had to be given to Jackie Phillips who was riding that nervous, unpredictable horse while twirling a lasso. Nevertheless, the majorettes must admit that it was an unusual, interesting marching band season for them. They had to do a lot more than just twirl batons! (as if that wasn't enough) Accompanying all these responsibilities of the majorettes are the many benefits and pleasures. Probably the least noticeable benefit is getting to wear a lot nicer uniforms than the marching band members. (Not that the marching band uniforms aren't nice, but have ever seen anyone who looks good in a marching band uniform? The many other obvious benefits need not even be mentioned!

STAGE BANDS

The Kiski Area Cavalier Stage Band is undoubtedly a very talented group. But then again, how could any group go wrong under the direction of Mr. C? Although jazz is a very hard type of music to interpret, the members of the Stage Band handle it like pros. Maybe they play so well because each and every member of the group pours their heart into the music—and it shows. Going beyond playing the notes on the page, the Stage Band is the funniest group around. Work gets done (and it gets done well), but no one forgets that loving your work makes it get done twice as fast and twice as well.

Some of the members have the first time "gitters" about standing up in front of the microphone and playing a solo in front of an audience, but who wouldn't be afraid of a first time solo? More important than anything else are the lasting friendships between the members of the band—with each other and with Mr. C. Every member loves being in the group. And love, plus alot of hard work makes anything unbeatable!

After adding a little disco to our show, we had to change our style a little. We began singing such sensational songs as, "Don't Take Away the Music," "Heaven Must Be Missing an Angel," and "Car Wash".

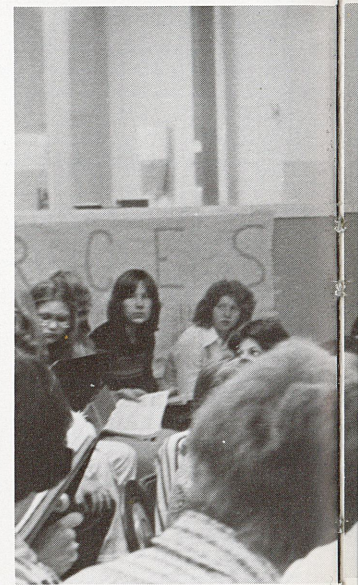

When Tony started getting into his version of "You'll Never Find," we sometimes wondered if he gave Lou Rawls lessons.

Due to our delay of school we were uncertain of our performances, but that never affected our "every morning" activity period practice which never quit.

CONCERT

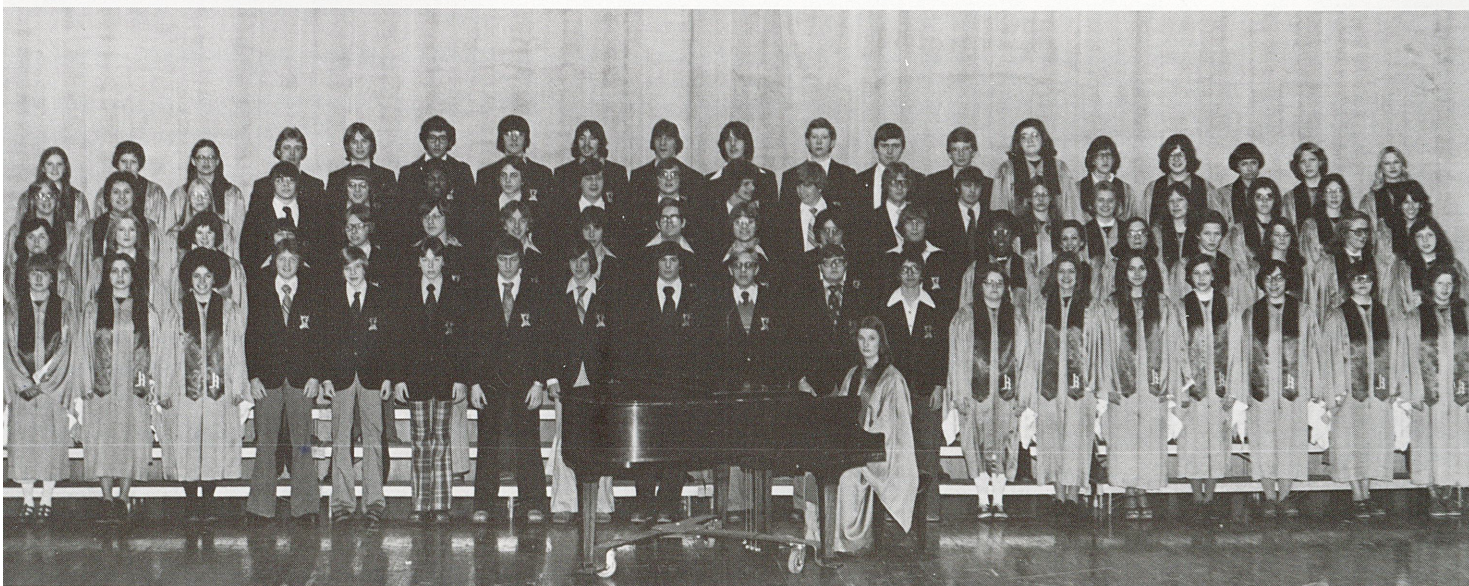

CHOIR

This year began with the usual strained vocal chords because of a long summer of just singing to our favorite tunes. But when Mr. McClland "roared", we got back into the beat and seriously thought about "The Messiah" (with the usual entourage of try-outs, cuts, and hurt feelings). If Messiah wasn't enough, we had to put on a concert for our fellow students. Everything turned out as great as ever except for a few embarrassing moments when we broke into the wrong "Joy to the World". But the long, hard practices finally paid off and we showed what we were made of . . . pretty good stuff! That was only the first part there was still a Spring concert to come.

Spring concert rehearsals were kind of cut short this year. So we had all of those 3,4,7, and 8th period sectionals. This year we learned a new type of music: SWING. We sang such goodies as Opus One, Deer Chase, Salvation is Created, and everybody's favorite, Send in the Clowns. (just ask Altmeyer, Kravetsky, Shuey, and Klingensmith) We showed just how good the "Big K" Concert Choir is.

To the seniors who took the traditional "senior walk" and sang their final concert at Choir-o-rama, it will be six years in which we learned just how fine the fine art of music is.

When we first came to Kiski, we wanted to be in the choir, but sometimes that was almost impossible, because we couldn't find the room. And then we found out what is meant by "Mixed Chorus." Knowing Mr. McClelland and Mr. Wolfgang, it was probably an abbreviation for "Mixed-up."

We didn't mind this though because for Christmas we were expected to preform Handel's "Messiah." At first the runs to "For unto us a child is born" sounded like geese flying north for mating season.

After many months of being looked down on by the juniors and seniors, we showed them how to really "Handel" the "Messiah", as we tried harder and harder to reach Concert Choir.

Being proud of ourselves because of the responsibilities we met.

Finishing this book completed our dream,
Thank you Karen for all the times you screamed.

In our memories we'll remember all the wail and the fun,
But Praise the Lord we're glad it's done.

There were times when we thought we couldn't make it,
Like uncropped pictures that just wouldn't fit.

With all the talent on literary staff,
We did two minute write ups in two months flat.

"L" was the major part of our write-up-filing system,
"L" means last, and thats where we'd usually find them.

Its amazing how you get caught by the flash at the funniest times,
And suddenly you find them here on page 129.

CHEERLEADERS

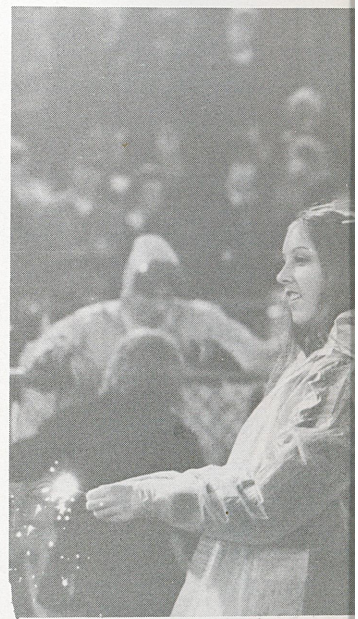

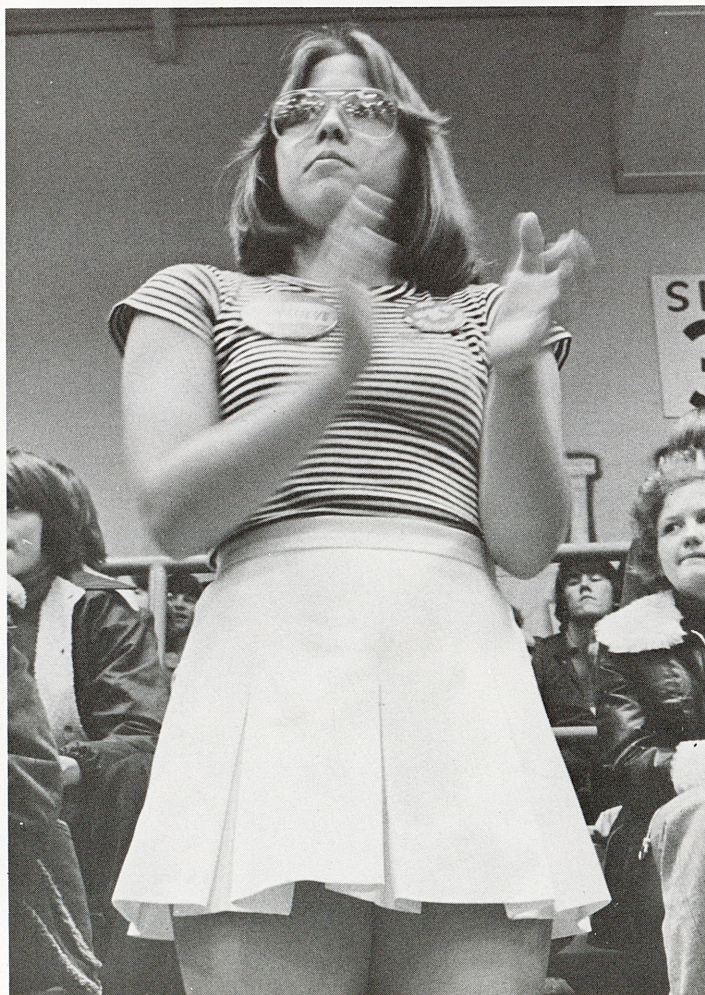

Our year began with summer practices filled with making and tags, planning pep assemblies, selling ads and filling order forms. In between all of this we found many long and tuous hours of working on cheers and mounts. Finally with spirit and the Cavalier determination, we left the "Big K" cheerleading camp. We learned that "spirit was the never ng cheering of a cheerleader"—from breakfast until devo-. With Sam leading the "Be Aggressive" cheer (whenever w a cute guy) and Janice constantly reminding us to smile, eppy, yell and hurry up we were once again one of the toughest and most threatening squads at camp. On the last day of camp competition, tear-faced mothers, proud former cheerleaders and Cavalier friends observed a typical "Big K" performance when we were awarded the Golden Eagle Spirit Megaphone Award for being the most spirited and enthusiastic squad at the session. With our megaphone and ribbons we returned proudly to the home of the Cavaliers to spread our spirit throughout the school. We contributed a great deal of our success to the help of a very special lady and friend, Mrs. Vitali, who is from Kiski and "couldn't be prouder!"

coin club

We were a small club but we had in our possession something valuable: money. We were the only club that enjoyed history and got a little richer in the process. We even had a few prize pieces that we showed our friends. (Maybe once too often?) The real thrill was knowing that we owned a piece of America itself. Yet while our treasury didn't gain much, the club experience made "sense" to us!

Drafting Club

"Signs, signs, can't you read the signs." That's what we boastfully asked our friends. If the answers were no, we knew that we needed no enemies. Kiski just wouldn't be complete without our signs and posters.

We have to give ourselves more credit than just signs, we are the only member of A.I.A.S.A. in Pennsylvania! Another implication of pride at the Big "K".

We all got drafted into the field trip to "Falling Water" and none of us regretted it. Some of us even got ideas for our dream houses of the future. As friends and a club, we were dynamite behind the leadership of Bob and Art. But as far as drafting goes . . . ask Mr. George.

lights, Camera, No Action!

Which is how it was for two years when Drama Club was inactive. But we wanted to change that and we did. We motivated and became the 1977 Kiski Flyers.

Our first meeting was a disaster, we thought we were going to have a good turnout. We did, out of the 40 persons invited 20 of them showed up. The twenty full-time members could not distinguish the difference between the first and third Mondays and the second and fourth Mondays. But finally, after several weeks of training the full-time members began to see the difference, also a certain division became very noticeable, they began to adopt a certain sign and title. Believe me, they know who they are, generally outrageous and crazy. But the Kiski Flyers was not all fun and games. Early this year we put on a play THE KING WHO LOVED LOLLIPOPS. Although we had three weeks to put it together it became a great hit. Especially seeing persons like Kam, Goofy, and Bird Man in leotards—they've got legs! We have a tradition to hold so a spring production is planned.

FBLA

Under the fantastic leadership of Mrs. Conti and, of course, Linda, we became familiar with the whole idea of what it's like to be "A Future Business Leader of America."

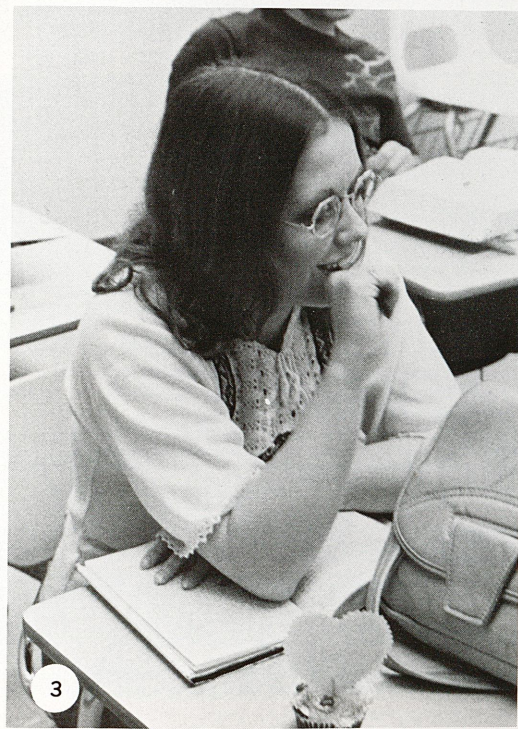

Our year consisted of many profitable activities, such as: a book sale, going Christmas Caroling in the high rise, and Spring Competition.

Not only were our activities profitable, they were also mysterious. Some of the students at Kiski will never forget the many Valentine's Day Cupcakes signed "Anonymous," or better yet, "With all my love, your secret admirer," that were dumped off at their home rooms.

Well, in conclusion, all we can say is "Thank you, for a job well done."

The FHA is a small club, but we have big ideas. Although things started out slow, things began to pick up after we participated in the fun fair, where we sold hot dogs. Our next project was a collage sale, and then we even made stuffed animals.

Later on in the year, we had speakers come in, who spoke to us about bridal preparations, and catering.

But we had individualism, even though we were a group. We each had our own projects, such as crocheting, knitting, sewing and embroidery.

With Mrs. Wilson as our advisor we're proud to say we moved along pretty smoothly throughout the year. We have to thank her, because she has helped us to be prepared as Future Homemakers of America.

1. Members of FHA spend time selling books for the Children's Hospital "Funfair."

2. Sue Kostelansky uses the home economics room sewing machines to complete her class project.

After the first French Club meeting, we knew it was going to be a successful year. We had over forty members. What could go wrong? Melanie still wanted to go to France, but she said she'd be happy if we went to Montreal. Madame Baun promptly vetoed the proposal. Quickly, we came up with another idea—a hat contest. We did not discriminate. Our contest was open to males. Many clubs entered the contest and displayed their hats in a paid assembly. All the proceeds went to Children's Hospital.

Even though we had had our activity for Children's Hospital, French Club decided to take part in the fun fair. We set up a Leather Craft booth and sold French Poodle balloons. Once again we were successful. On April Fool's Day we continued the French tradition, in our own way, by selling fish shaped cookies. Many of the cookies were slightly deformed but they still tasted good.

A few enterprising members of club wanted to sell Kiski pins—so of course, we sold Kiski pins.

To end what an extremely successful year, we all became gourmet chefs, preparing a superb French cuisine. C'est la vie.

F.T.A.? Only a few years ago we were one of the biggest known clubs in school the Future Teachers of America, since then the over abundance of members has had its effect on our membership, by causing kids to choose other organizations. But inspite of all the difficulties and a membership of only 10 we managed to start out the year by raising $7 for Children's Hospital. This was more than we expected, when the dog we were raffling off at the Fun Fair for a year a key, was won when we had only 75¢. Luckily we came up with another dog.

After losing Mrs. Kearney as our sponsor, Mr. Symzack took over. Our main goal every year was to get the opportunity to experience first hand teaching one day in either the junior high or elementary schools.

German Club

Warum nicht auf Deutsch? Because once you sang the first round of Glocklein kling, you knew it would be gingerbread and beer from here on in. Really, none of us minded it, because we found the German customs and traditions could be quite nice; such as going to Reading for a "real" Deutschland meal or listening to beerhall songs. But most of all we enjoyed Herr Pipkins disappearing act, like "Wait here kinder, and I'll be right back." Sometimes he came, other times he didn't, but either way, we were never bothered by such trivialities as that. No, actually we were excited about the club as though we were going to Germany or something. Maybe one day we may venture there and we'll surely remember Herr Pipkins' Deutsch Klub. At that time you'll get a "Klumpen" in your throat, but don't worry, it will just be a small sentimental "Halsschmerzen".

We are those little Kiski creatures that are always running around trying to sell ice scrapers, trays, jewelry and wall plaques to our moneyless fellow students. We are not thrifty tycoons nor are we professional businessmen, so who else could we be but JA; organized mini-corporations, getting our chance to help the economy.

Although we spent most of the year managing and selling, we still found time for fun. We had time for contests, and JAMCO and NAJAC. We became Best Salesmen, Presidents, Officers, and Important People (at least for that night). We knew what capital was, and we feared the possibility of "going under". We anticipated the end of the year when we would receive scholarships and our "bonus" (we didn't say that we were not money-hungry!)

As we look back on a green year of money and sales slips, we will always recall that what we learned can be adapted to the needs of our future in the mad, mad world of business.

HEALTH CAREERS

Our year began a little slower than usual due to the reorganizing that needed to be done as we tried to get acquainted with our new sponsor, Mrs. Smith.

We participated in the Fun Fair for Children's Hospital and had an interesting and enjoyable time selling refreshments and items in our flea market. We had all kinds of keepsakes, even such valuable items as Mrs. Borowski's Paul Anka album. How we got her to part with that we'll never know. We also had a peanut brittle sale in school.

We finished out our year with a hospital tour, and, of course, our annual stationery sale. We also awarded scholarships to our deserving members. We would like to thank Mrs. Smith for a job well done.

We're the Key Club, the little Kiwanians who "serve with integrity" That's our motto and that's what we strive to do.

magic L U B

With no magic wand to call our own we somehow had to create the mysterious atmosphere at our meetings. Was it Mr. Israel's voice that was so mystic? Only the members know, and good magicians never tell their secrets.

With dues, raising money, electing officers, and time for fun, we somehow found time for magic. With the promise of a real live magician coming in, we had to pay our dues to see him.

As we look back on the year of 76-77 we realize that without magic club our lives would have been boring. And where else could we learn so many tricks to try on our friends in study hall. Our magic club will never be put in a box to dodge the swords of fate, not if we're the magicians.

MATH = 5 2 + 2 CLUB

You don't have to be smart to join. Just interested in math. All of us plainly qualified, as we not only carried our Trig and Calc books to class but also to the lower cafeteria activity periods, to where ever Miss Gregory was during our study halls and lunch periods, to 412 after school, and of course, home every night where we enjoyed its company for anywhere from 15 minutes to 5 hours or more, depending on how "devoted" we were.

Under the decisive rule of our president, Flea, we proceeded through the year, hearing presentations, always planning that field trip, and obsessently searching the depths of our minds to derive the formula for becoming instant millionaires. We now have it narrowed down to using either logarithms, limits, derivatives or integrals.

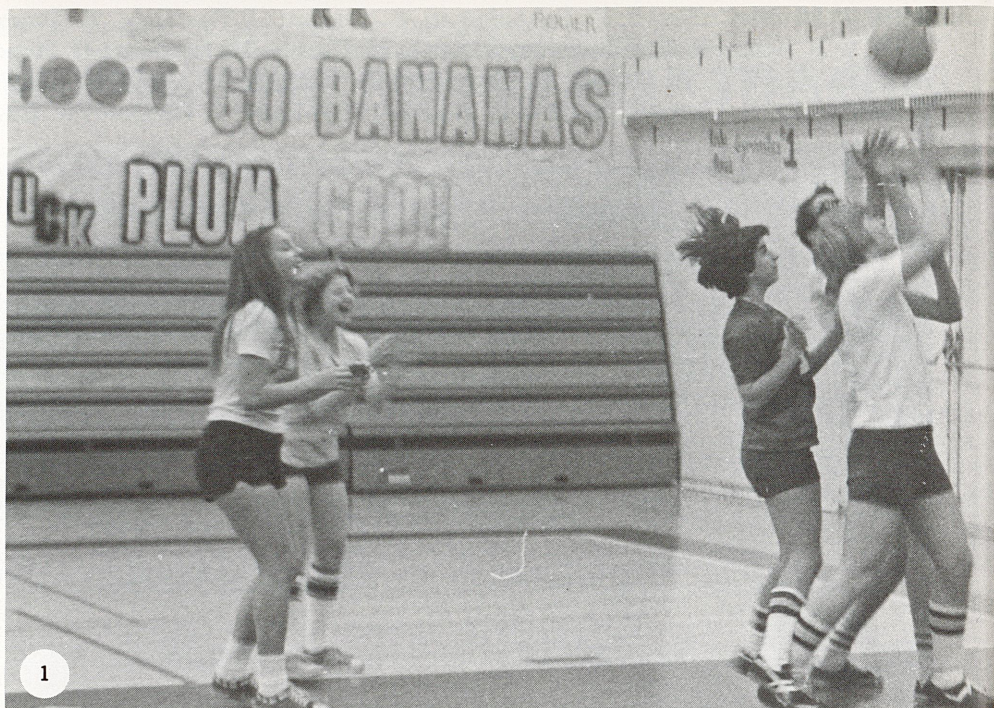

Some people may wonder why anyone would ever join a math club, but every member knows the answer. However it, like the system of mathematics, is only able to exist in your mind.

1. Our fearless president.
2. Hidden in the depths of their pens, Math Club members find quick answers.
3. Is it right guys?

MILITARY CAREERS

With the birth of our new club came a whole perspective in the sense of finding ourselves in one of the prestigious military careers. With the help of Mr. Brozovich we were able to invite Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force recruiters to our meetings so they could advise us in which course of action we should take. We hoped the information we received this year helped us make a good decision when we came to that cross road in life. We not only realized how great we were at basketball, but that we had molded a future we could be proud of.

"The thought for the day is . . ." That's the way we start our day at the Big K. Nine times out of ten it would be some hilariously witty remark that made the moment of silent meditation impossible because of the splitting sides and roars of laughter.

Some were funny and some enlightening, and some even hit home like "If you love something set it free, if it comes back it's yours if it doesn't it never really was."

Rain, sunshine, or a freezing cold office, we were always able to add a special part to every one's day.

'NHS'

When the National Honor Society it seemed that our minds were obsessed with was, "Make . . . Give Scholarships" To accomplish this money making, we found ourselves operating coffee houses, pie sales, right down to sponsoring a "jello slurping" contest. For our coffee houses, we sold a might powerful Cocoa. We had a large response from our school, but we hope the examples we set for other schools made up for it. For the pie sale, we found ourselves balancing 10-20 pies in the back of our cars. As for the "jello slurping" contest, WE GET IT! When the other students think they know that anything goes. But by the end of the year, we finally pulled the funds together. . . . now maybe we can pull ourselves together.

CLUB

Again this year we made homecoming night a very special one for a lot of seniors and underclassmen with our mums. We also sold daisies and baby's breath which made an even more memorable night for seniors. Even this wasn't enough, we even made stockings and each member contributed 25¢ for children's hospital.

But selling things isn't always the extent of our duties. We provide the spirit that helps get everything together. We were even heard on those rainy-football game nights cheering our guys on to Victory.

Under our capable president, Kathy, we learned our cheers, sold our mums and learned what it is to have school spirit, but we spread it throughout "Big K" territory.

ROCK CLUB

Following in the footsteps of Aerosmith, Boston, Fleetwood Mac, and the Eagles, we shared the knowledge of what good music is all about. Under the leadership of Timmy we can definitely say we got a head.

Mr. Szymczak introduced us into a whole new idea of what music is all about. It's more than jammin', flashing lights, crowded arenas, and loud sounds. It's words with real meaning, it's a universal language.

Again this year Rock Club was limited only to Seniors. Maybe someday we'll find out what it is that makes people so attracted to Mr. Szymczak. After a year with him we realized that we weren't playing with, "Toys in the Attic" so we're "Takin' to the limit."

ROCKET CLUB

Now that the blizzard has subsided, the members of the Rocket Club are anxiously awaiting the launching of one of their favorite rockets, "The Orbital Transport." If a word had to be picked to describe the overall club attitude, it would have to be "dedication." "I have a cultures test!" "Well I have a chemistry test!"—these are common expressions that circulate throughout the club, but no one seems to care! Some of the members confess that they've been studying and launching rockets for eight years! (Is there such a disease known as "rocketmania??") Although the average person would tend to think that the club would launch one rocket at a time, they've been known to launch 30 rockets at once—5 times in a row! The rocket club members are really an intellectual group, with a common interest, who really know their rockets!

"To promote an interest in skiing" was our purpose, and, since most of our 100 members were inexperienced teaching our members to ski was our goal.

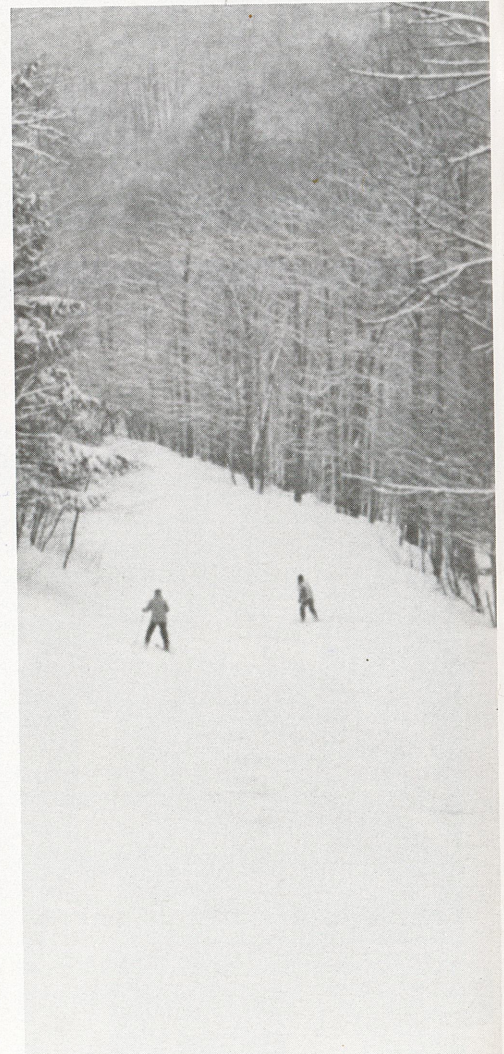

As far as aspiration, then, our hopes were on the slopes. We figured on a few trips to Seven Springs, to requaint ourselves with the slopes, and get into good form, and then . . . what else? The Alps?

We had a politically unanimous club. When it came time to vote, we were all unanimous—but then only one person was nominated for each office.

I bet this is the only club that gives HOMEWORK—like checking on group hospital rates, "and other things like (insurance coverage, the rising cost of plaster casts and flair pens): Even PAPERWORK: signed parent permission slips, legal documents freeing Miss Jenks of all legal responsibilities in case of . . . well . . . STAGE CREW

What can you expect from a club under the leadership of Mr. Tarosky and Mr. DeSantis consisting of ten hard working students? Sturdy gym equipment, fixed risers, and, of course, a successful graduation. This may not mean much to you, but for the students and people involved, it's a life saver.

Many people feel stage crew does nothing but make tooth brush holders for elementary schools, but with out it, our school and the schools in this district would literally fall apart.

Student Secretaries

"I need 600 copies of this by second period"! This is just one of the everyday experiences of a student secretary. We were more than just a club, we were a necessity. We helped our faculty members by typing study guides, running off things, doing seating charts, adding points and recording grades. Along with our other responsibilities we managed to get things done. Yet, like no other club we are graded.

But things sometimes got a little hectic even for the most efficient of us. Remember when DeeDee had to type out bunches of letters of congratulations for a certain guidance counselor and the time when Kathy ran the ditto machine with the onion skin still attached to the ditto and got 600 blank copies of a Mythology worksheet.

We are unique on the fact that we have devoted all of our activity periods and study halls to become the best we can be and to gain practical experience for our future positions.

STUDENT COUNCIL

We were elected by our fellow students to do a job. Our job was to get the point across that the student body wanted to be expressed.

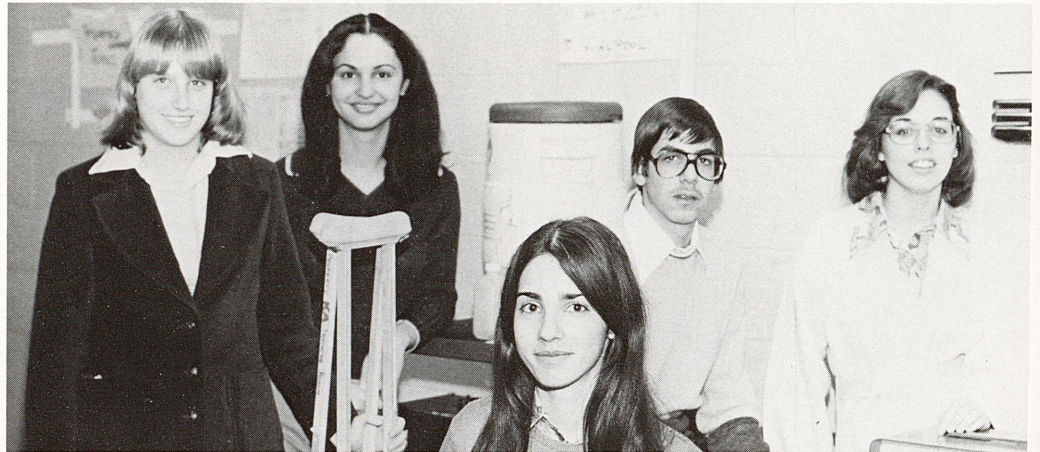

With Ang as our leader, we could be found in the Upper Cafeteria discussing topics ranging from sending letters to Governor Shapp about the date of graduation to participating in the March of Dimes "Sunshine Stroll '77."

We spent a lot of time thinking and working on ways to make this year a little better. We take pride in the fact that we brought about many useful changes.

Tape, Band-aids, and Nitrotan (pain in a spray can) were our main weapons.

In great anticipation, we stood by waiting for one of our highly dedicated athletes to push himself or herself too far. We were prepared to practice what we had learned from what seemed to be an endless year of classroom and on the field instruction from Mr. Brost. We could doctor pulled muscles, stoved fingers, and mostly any other casualty that our jocks could muster up.

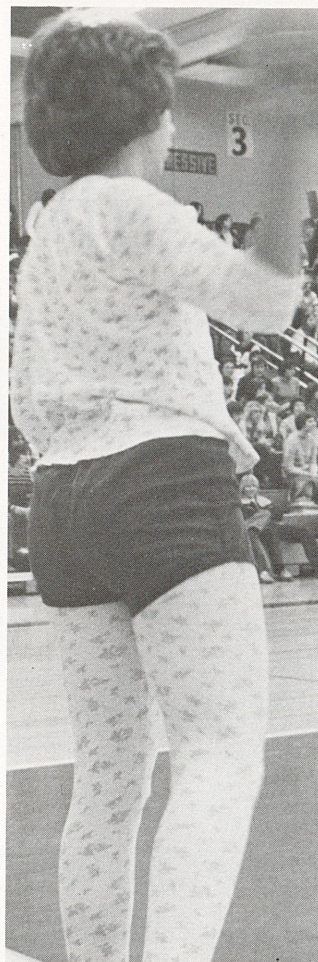

Taping people's legs was often a hassle, but we were rewarded for our troubles by seeing their facial expressions as we ripped the tape off. If the time should ever come for us to be needed after our high school days, we could do it because we learned what to do and how to do it.

We may not have been the most popular club but we can't figure out why. This year under the leadership of Vicki and our sponsor Mrs. J., we really had a worth-while year. In October, we gave Halloween lollipops to the elementary schools and we sold lollipops for Children's Hospital. The success of this was felt by everyone—"Great" as we munched merrily along.

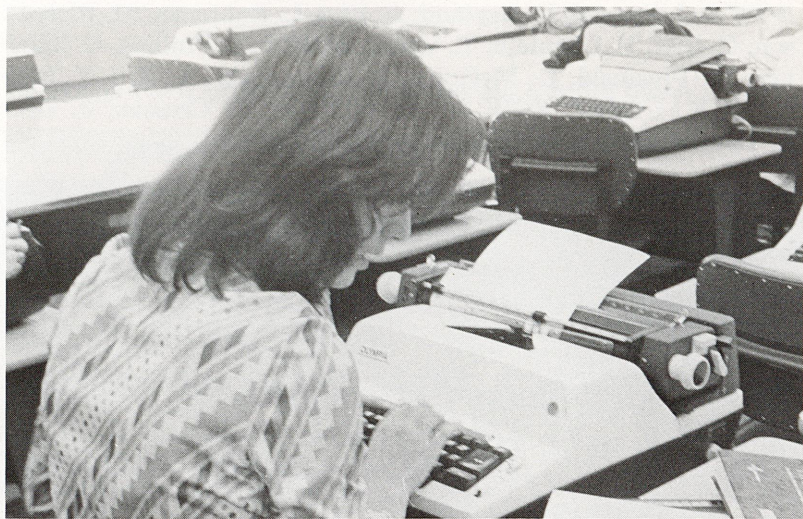

None of us will forget the basketball game against the Key Club. It was not only a big success but just one of the neat memories of this year in Tri-Hi-Y.

typing club

If you have ever passed 417 on a quiet Wednesday, you would still hear those lovely little sounds of clattering typewriters. We are the Typing club. If you think we were one of those quiet little clubs, you didn't look close enough.

We are future secretaries, as Mrs. Orr told us. She talked to us about careers that we could get into.

One of our highlights was our typist of the year award. We even played typing games such as who could type "John Doe's" letters the fastest. The winners accumulated points and at the end of the year the highest scorer got the trophy. All these things and so much more to be secretaries in the future and to be the proud members of the typing club now for.

VARSITY CLUB

Raising money for varsity jackets and for the weight room was our big goal this year. Of course that was kind of hard when most of our meetings were cancelled because of the delays and cancellations of school. But we did manage to have a few meetings where we discussed money-making projects. Some of these projects were selling donuts, candy, and candles. Other activities included selling refreshments at half time at basketball games and taking tickets at various sports events. All in all, it was a good year.

Wrestling Club

We are the wrestlers, wrestlerettes, and the wrestling fans, who are otherwise known as the Wrestling Club.

With Kelly as our president, we knew that this year was going to be special and special it was! Like when we all got to cheer at the Burrell match and the unforgettable ride home . . .

Our wrestlerettes were better than ever this year. With Margie as captain, they learned all the latest cheers and gave our guys a lot of support. And when you had two juniors like Doug and Joel, who really earned the title of superstar, it makes your job a whole lot easier.

Wrestlereffes

Although small in number we were big in spirit. With only five members we had a big job ahead of us. We had pride in our signs, but sometimes even the best forget to proofread. With MAT RAT as our mascot and Margie as our president we became the best of friends and dynamite wrestlerettes too.

Beginning another season, we prepared ourselves for hard practices and riding the six o'clock activity bus home. Practice consisted of shooting drills, running scrimmages, setting up plays and oh, yes, even running the tunnel when we missed lay ups.

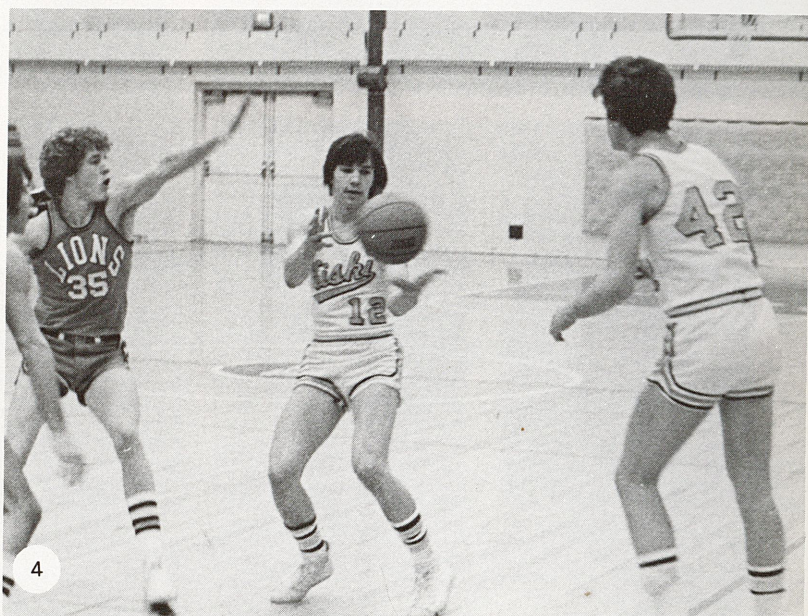

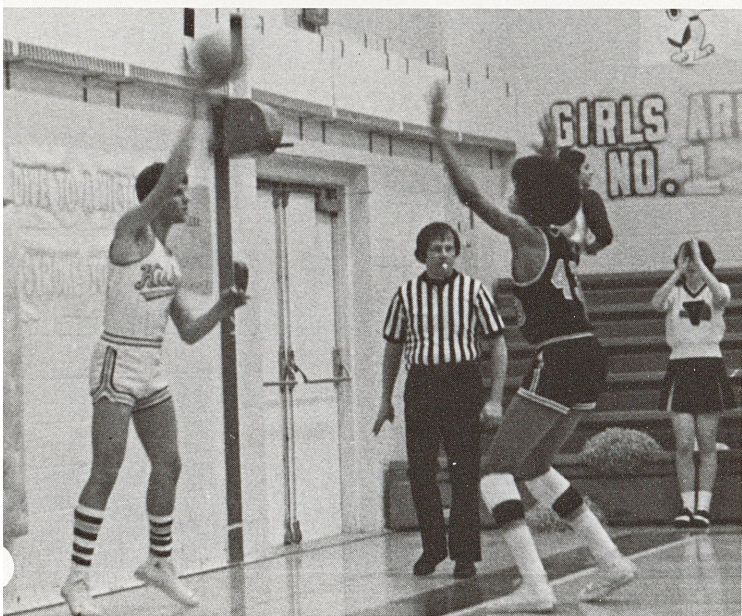

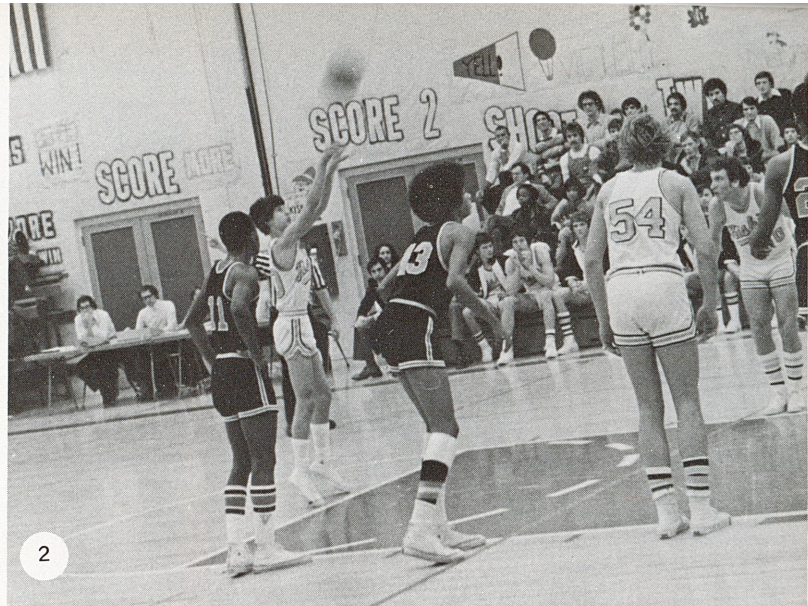

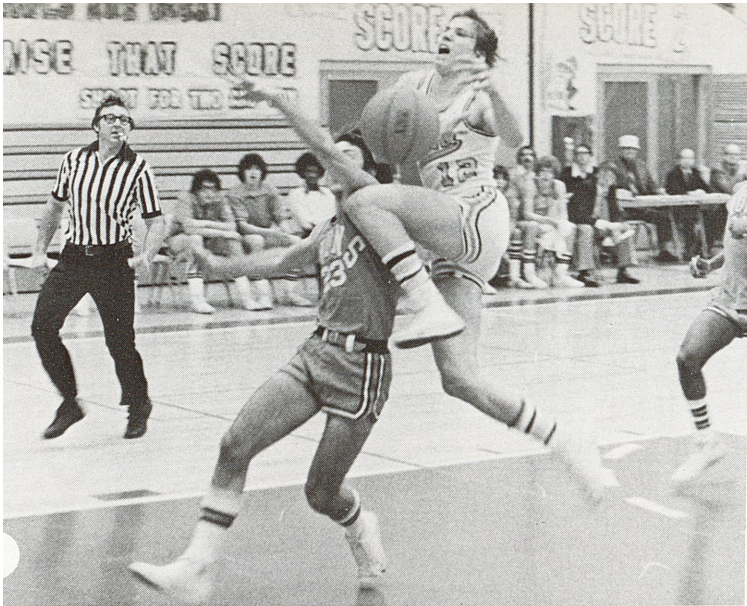

We were quite pleased with our exhibition season. Sometimes we weren't evenly matched, but with a team consisting of JoJo, Barker, Mo Town, Shanier, Rubberbandman, under the leadership of Jake the Snake we were always ready to do our best even if Benjie Pryer is five times the size of Tommy Mac.

We opened section play with a heartbreaker against Latrobe but came back to a 10 game winning streak. Some of our victories came by margins, others by the skin of our teeth, like the first time we played Jeannette. We owe that win to the JV team and their version of "choo choo" and "defense".

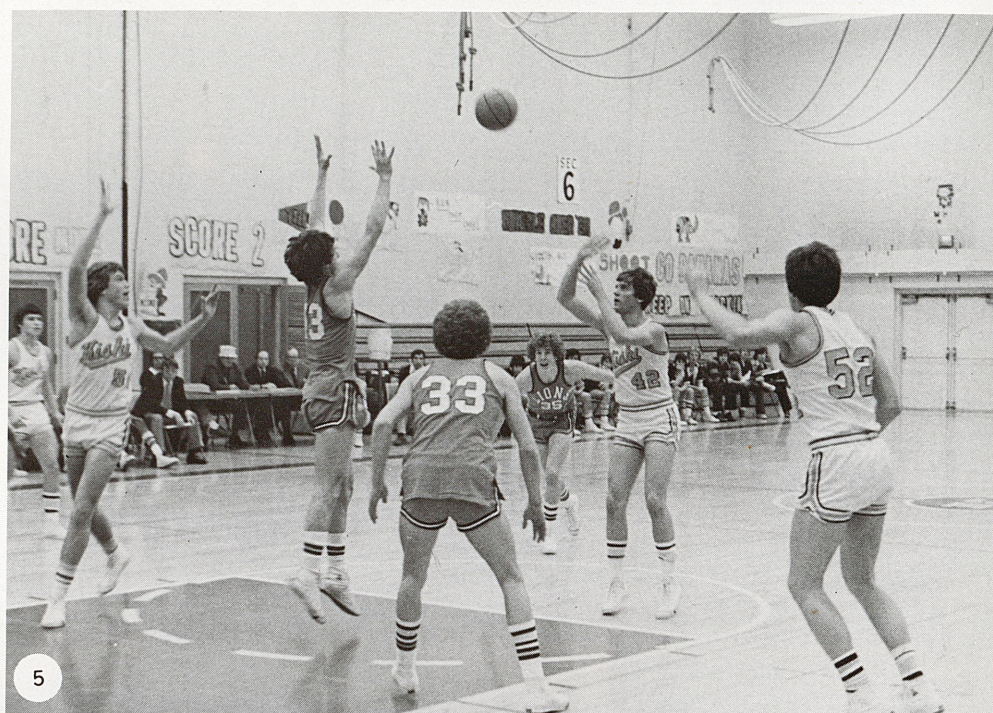

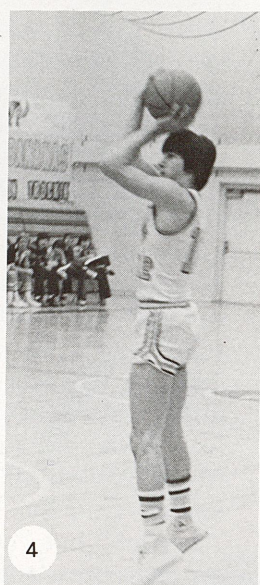

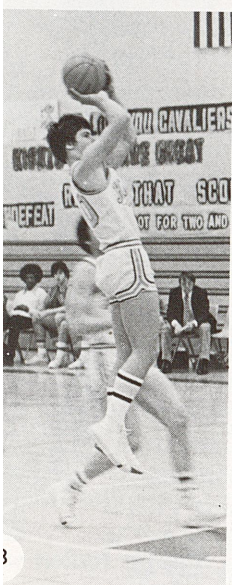

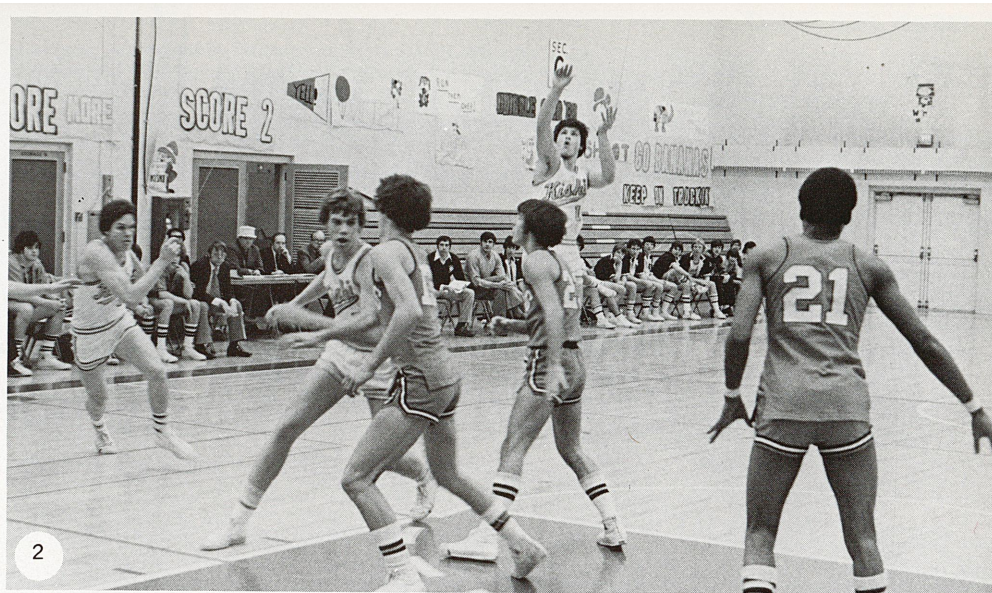

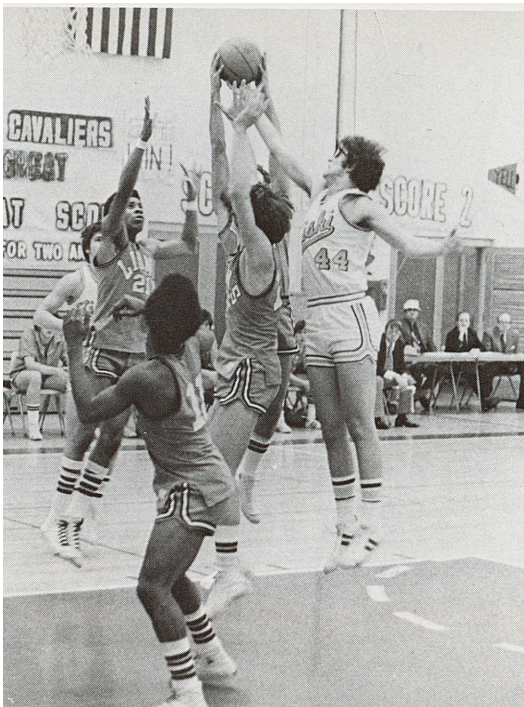

As the season progressed we became accustomed to things like coming from behind by twelve points to win, throwing oranges all over the bus when going to away games, but most of all to winning. A super second win over Latrobe put us in second place, but we wanted to be on top and anything short of that we would not easily accept.

year our practices got off to a start, although we couldn't say as for some of our games. Yet we in the Apollo Ridge Tournament

With a crew like Snake, Bart, Ang, Waddle, Pete, Puff, Stush, Despo, Terry, and our twin tackles Bell and Wagner on our team how could we possibly go wrong. After a series of summer socials we were off to Bethany.

Long, hard practices were ahead of us. Sometimes we thought we couldn't make it, but with coaches Diltz and Morea behind us, we always found enough energy to go on.

Between practices you would probably find us rapping in Pete and Puff's room or watching Happy Days. Pillow fights between Snake and Bart became routine. There was even the shaving cream Despo found under his sheet. We seem to get these wierd frequent visits from Waddle and some day we'll know what Bart did to keep Tony laughing all night.

In spite of all the fun we did work hard and under the leadership of our captains Ang and Randy (The Captain and Tennille) we were ready to start our season. Although we had a slow start, our pride and determination to win the Foothills never quit even when we lost to Valley. Between Kevin, Terry, Stush, Joe, and Pat we never played as a whole team. After three wins in a row, we were psyched and ready to defeat Penn Hills. Unfortunately, we didn't but with three games left we couldn't quit.

We considered ourselves winners because we were the Big K "jocks". As for the Foothills, well to Haskel, Duke, Buddah, TT Luke, Nose, and Jimmy, we wish you the best of luck for next year. And bring the title back to Kiski where it belongs.

Things were really "swinging" this year for the KA golf team. There was never a dull moment—but then how could there be with such dignified celebrities as Tony "Grass-seed" Giotto, "Turtle" Osheskie, and "Lips" Momberger. And, of course, we can't overlook the expertise skills of Coach Ves . . . (or could we?)

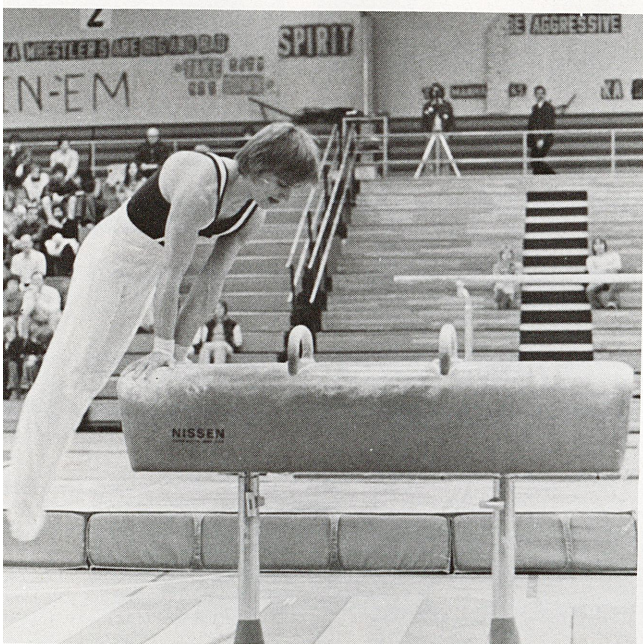

But seriously . . . among the accomplishments this year was Tony Giotto's finishing third in the WPIAL Individual Championship—the highest finish in the history of Kiski and the team finishing second in the WPIAL Section 13.

Although we'll be losing a few "pros" such as Tardivo, Osheskie, and Mistrick, Mr. Ves predicts next year's team to be as good as any team in the past with a very good chance at winning the Section 13 title.

Gymnastics

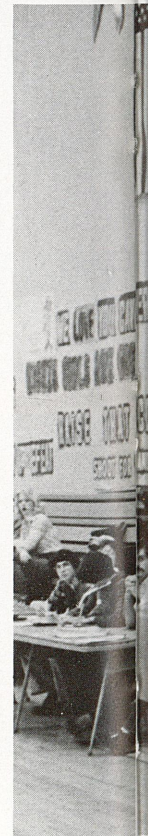

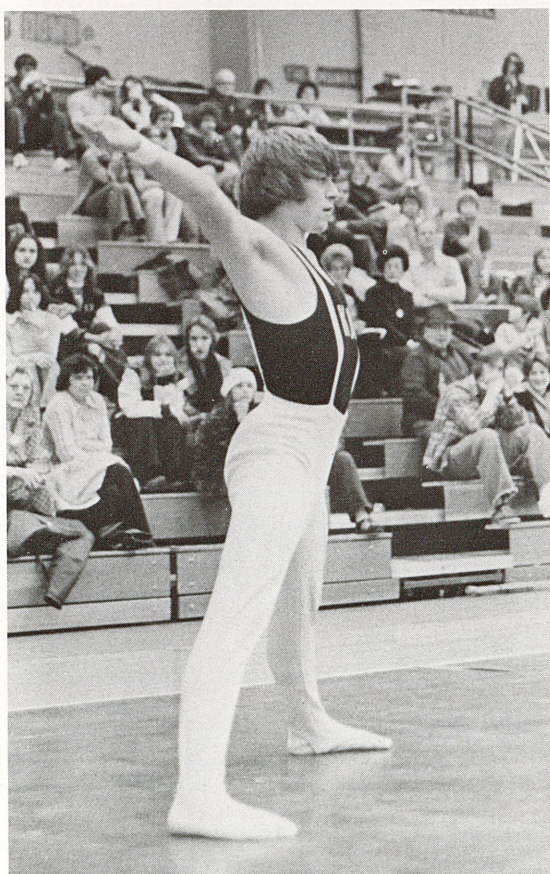

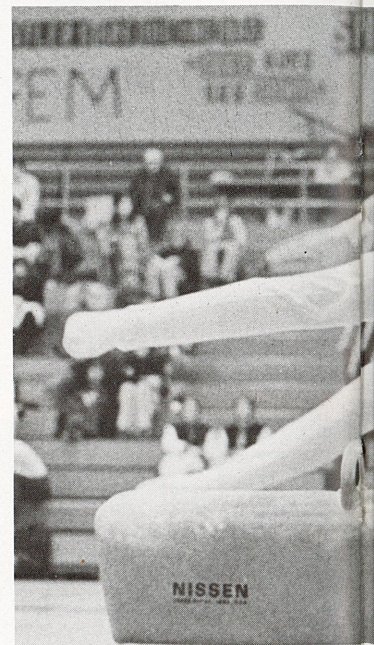

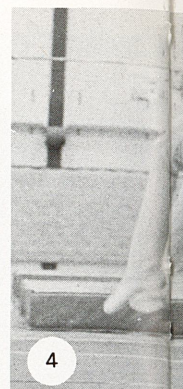

The gymnastics team—a group of fine dedicated athletes, right? As seen by the student body, certainly not. Guys yelling KAK, acting queer in the halls, reading Spiderman comic books or other magazines on their hobbies. A huddle in between the locker rows comparing early dismissals or discussing last night's activities.

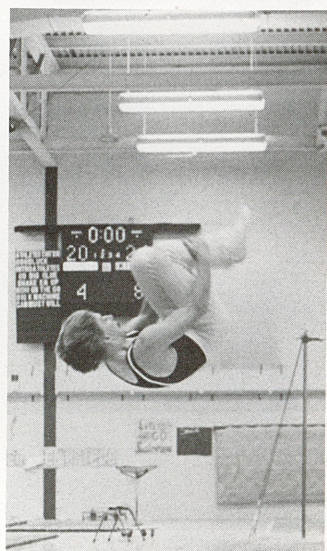

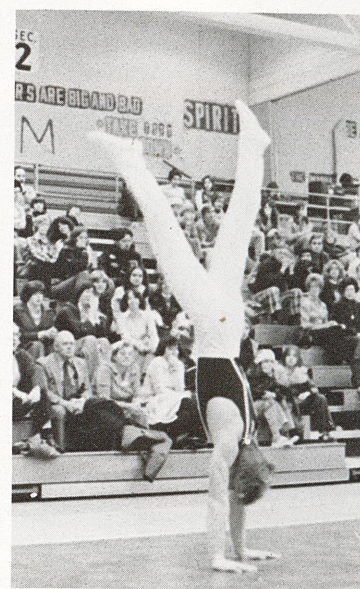

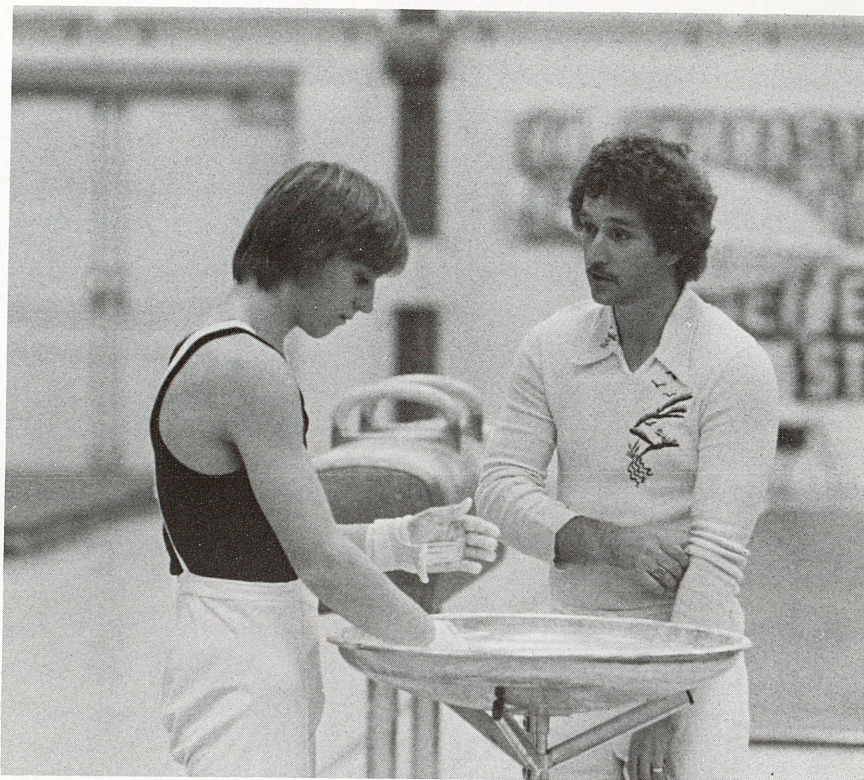

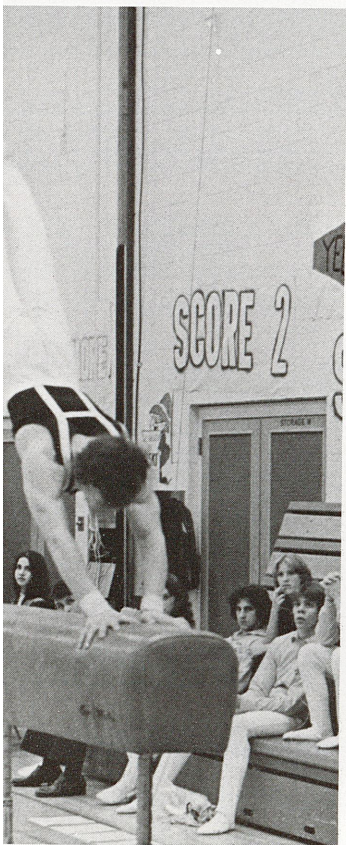

Although this is all true, it is quite a transformed group that appears before spectators at a meet. Jim on parallel bars, Bonner on the horse, Scheide-man on rings, Chiatello as all-around and Tim comes down to surprise everyone with his skill on floor ex.

No one is quite sure how Coaches Answine and Cernicky manage to produce such a good team, or even how they remain sane. As Jim describes the team, "We're too colorful for a black and white page."

1. Jim Ferrando performs a V-seat.
2. Jim Ferrando on the high bar.
3. Rick Bonner executes a side horse routine.

Practice started out pretty slow, but as we got in shape, we started looking like a swim team instead of a bunch of kids playing Mark Spitz in their backyard wading pools.

With the help of Speedo goggles and our fearless Captains we knew that if we had the guts and listened to the coach's advice (which sometimes turned out to be an offer that we just couldn't refuse!) we could have managed to bring our time down to where they should have been two weeks earlier.

Through the course of our season we won a few and lost a few and we even set a number of records. Not only speed wise but like the most junk food consumed on one bus ride from Hempfield to Kiski—a team effort.

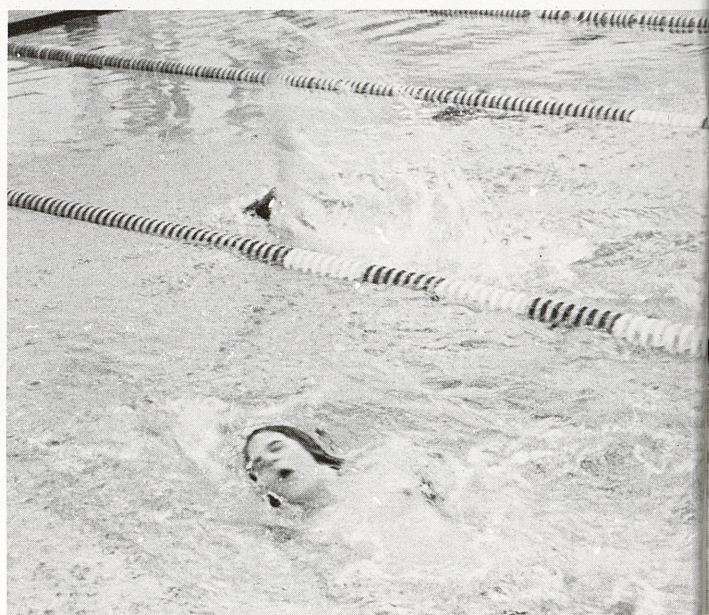

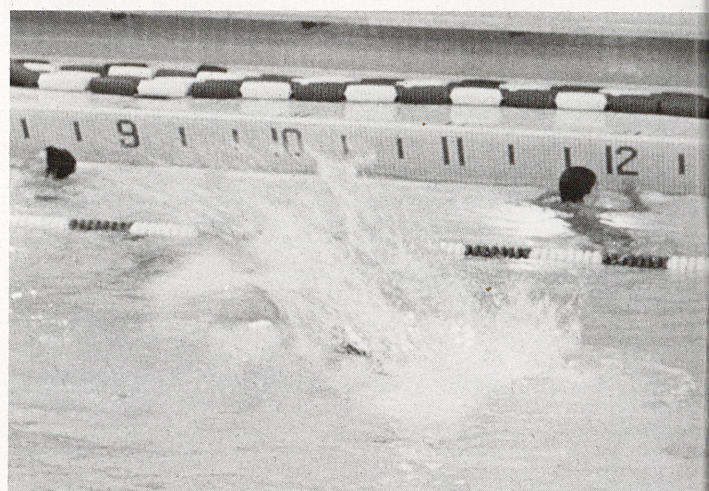

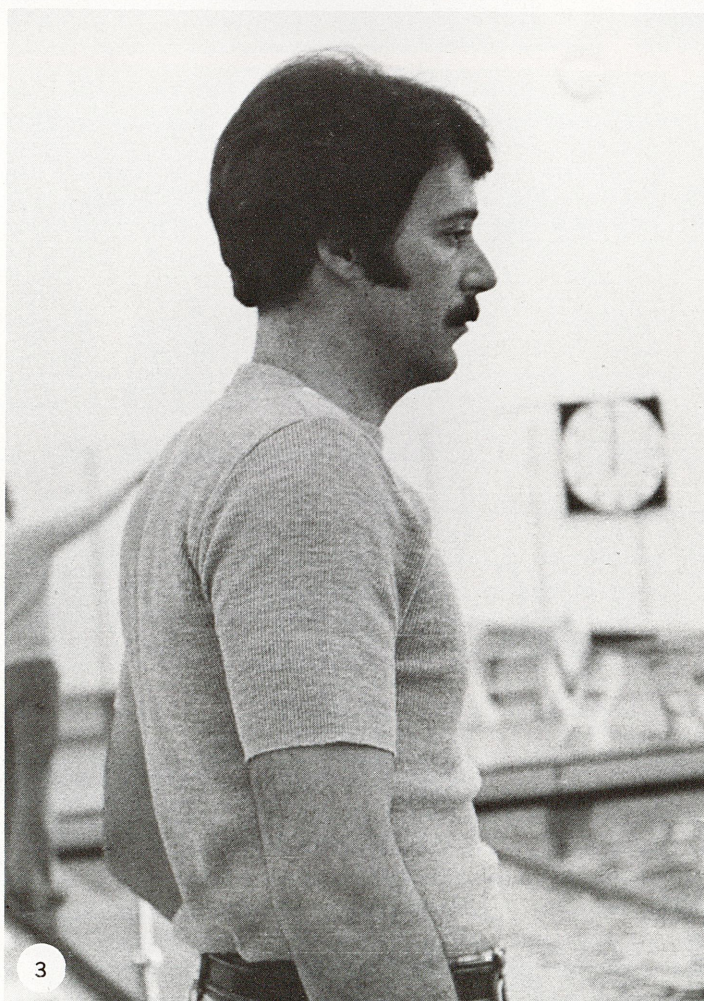

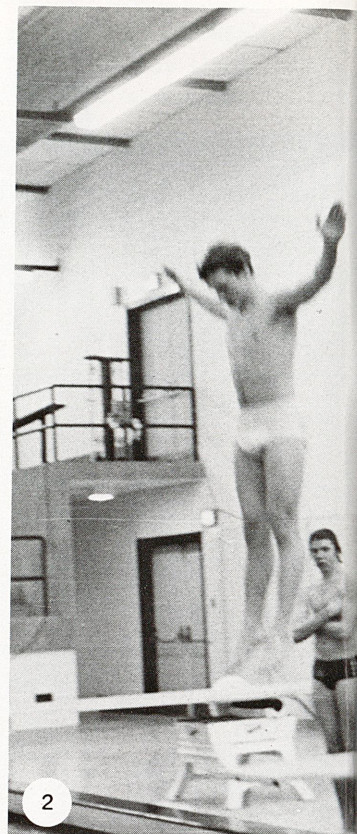

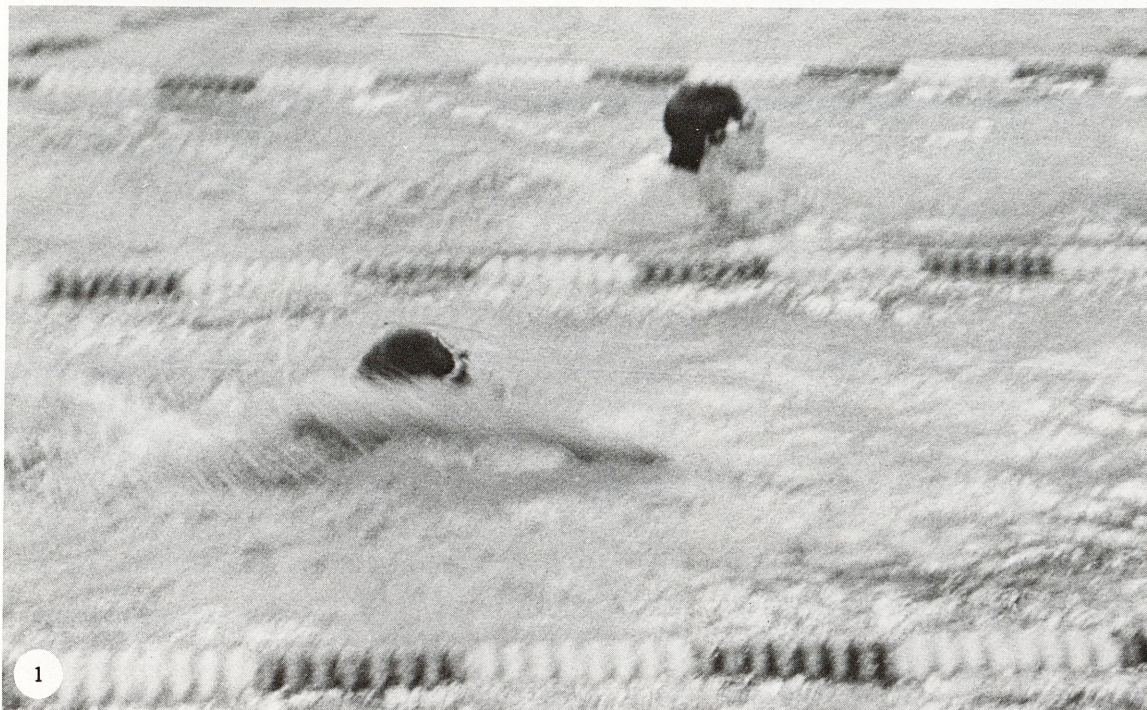

We finished our season knowing that we did our best and no one can want, or ever should want better than that.

Practice started in August, but it wasn't long before we had our first meet. With the help of our captain "Unc" and our mascot "Ernie" we had an O.K. season. We even had our pair of superstars like the Brinsko's, Ciardulis, and the Galos. We couldn't have made it through the year without Mrs. Answine and Miss Micheals pushing us to do our best. Away meets were always fun since we had lots of food to eat on the way back home. This year we even got to watch ourselves on T.V. and the girls in Lane 1 were constantly being watched through the under water windows.

Although our season wasn't our best, we have alot of great memories and a fantastic year to look forward to. We'll never forget our super seniors who made this year special. They say that practice makes perfect well we practiced and practiced, what happened?!

5. Janie Blanciak hits her overhead serve to her opponents.

Our year started out much the same as ever with our succession of wins until we got "thumbed" by Plum. But we gave them a game to remember. During practice we each worked on individual skills, but they all came together on the court.

With a captain like Diane Schaffer and a team like Briggs, Blanciak, and, oh yes, how can we forget Mendicino and her version of Hi Didlee Dee, we definitely had a winning team. After an almost perfect season our only chance to win the section was to defeat Plum the second time. But it just wasn't meant to be. We took it on the chin again and that rapped up our season.

We got self satisfaction out of playing volleyball. And even though we didn't end up number one we came pretty darn close to it.

1. Diane Shaffer spikes the ball over the net.
2. Spectators and teammates watch the match.
3. Ellen backs up Diane as the ball crosses the net.
4. Robin Kukalis makes the game point.

5. Kim Costanza looks at the "ref" to see if his pin is good.

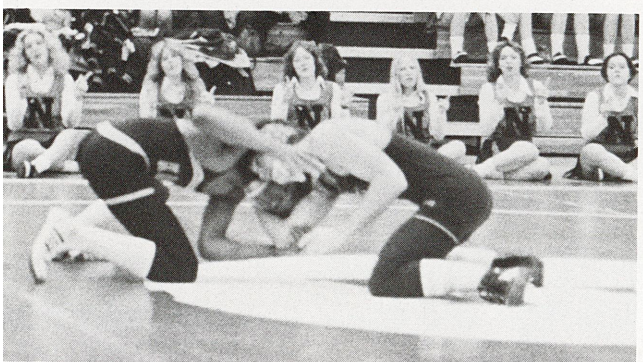

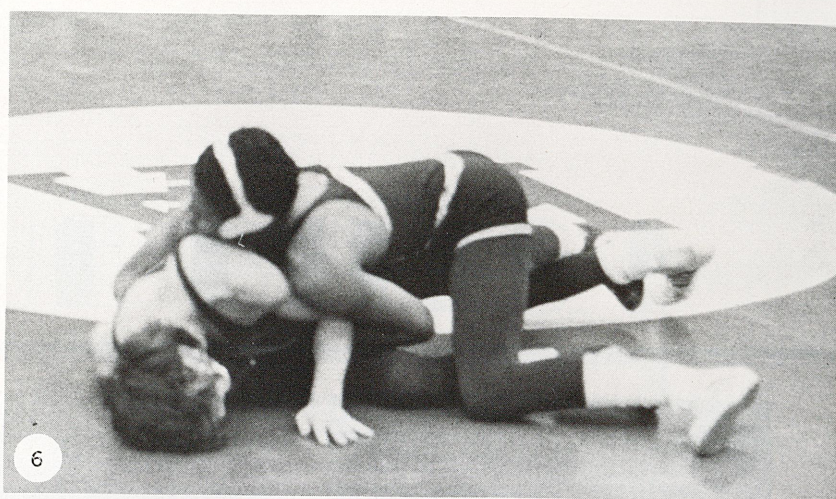

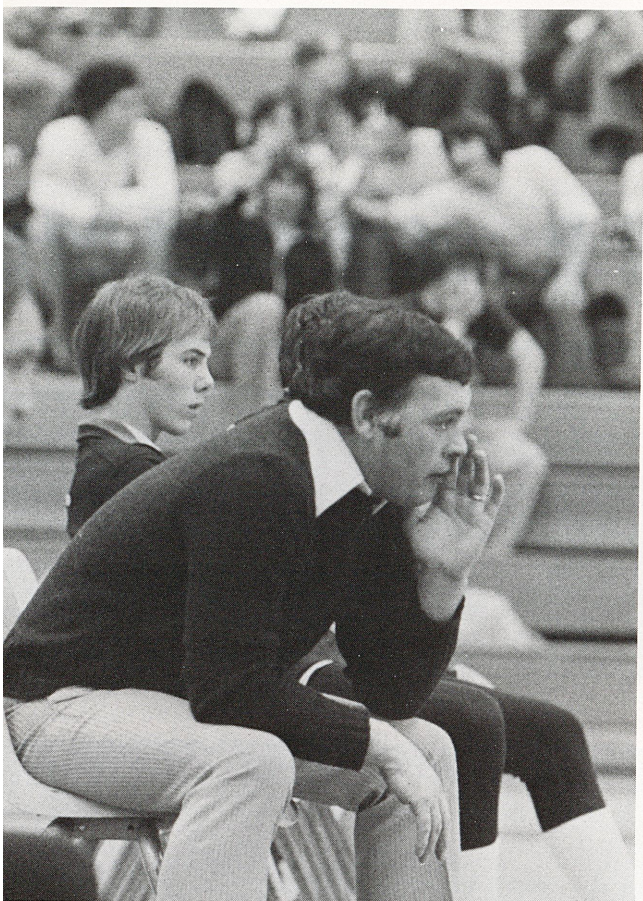

Under the experienced coaching of Mr. Berberich, and "Doehead" we pulled through a fair season. We couldn't go wrong with the Tri-Captains—Joel Rayburg, Tim Toy, and John Lucas.

Many people wonder how a name like Rughead comes out of a county champ, right Joel? But Joel, you're one of the lucky ones, how would you like to be called Bro or T.T, Baby Hughie or Bimbo.

Where could you find these superstars on the mornings of weigh-ins? Running, of course. No matter what we didn't eat we couldn't seem to make the weight. Somehow our many hours of practice seemed to come together, as we wrestled our way over Deer Lakes. Sure we won a few and we lost a few, but in the process, we learned a lot.

1. Joel Rayburg and his opponent face off.
2. Kiski scores on a takedown.
3. Dave Briscoe has the edge on his opponent.

SORRY TO GO

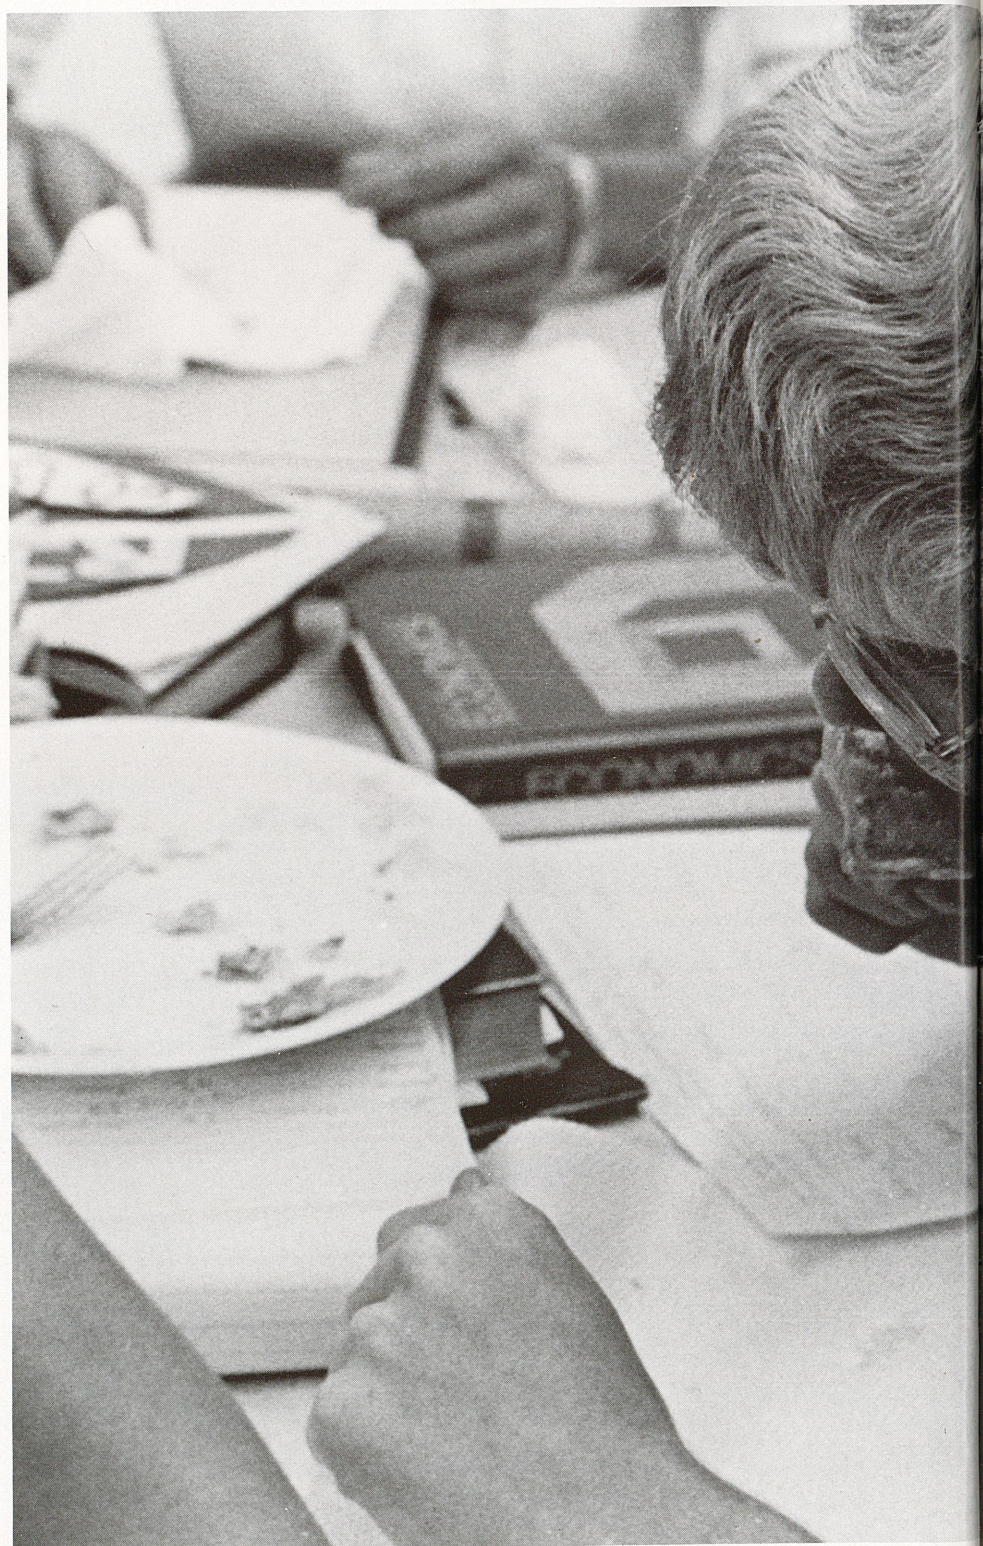

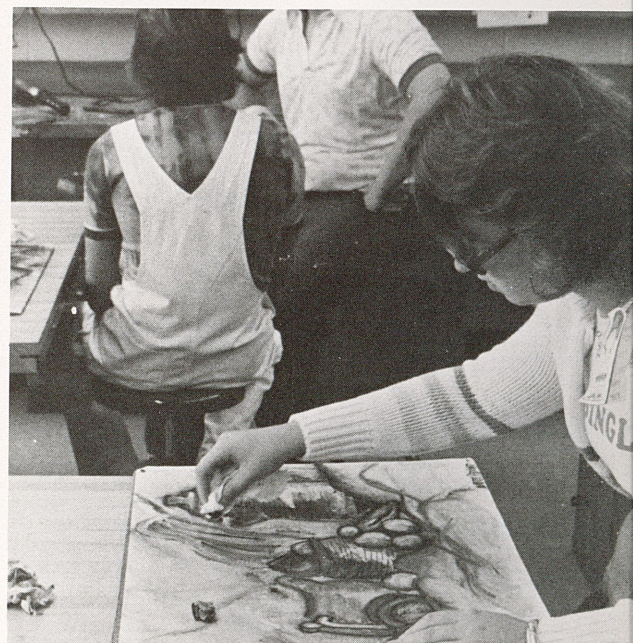

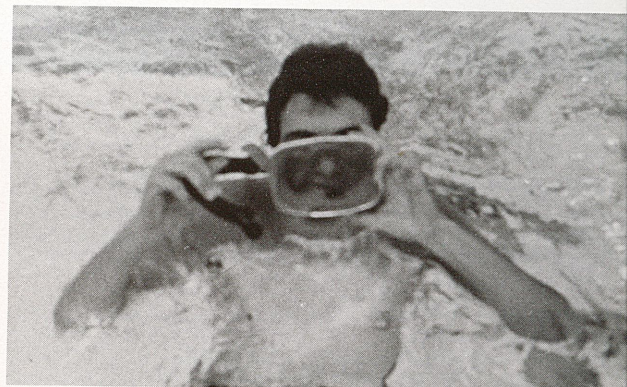

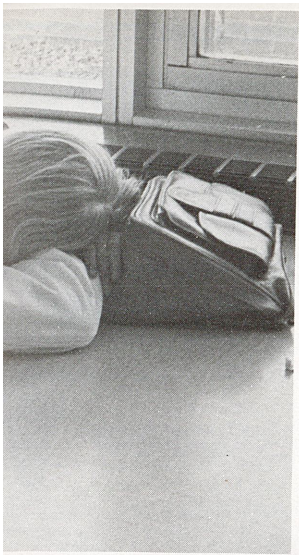

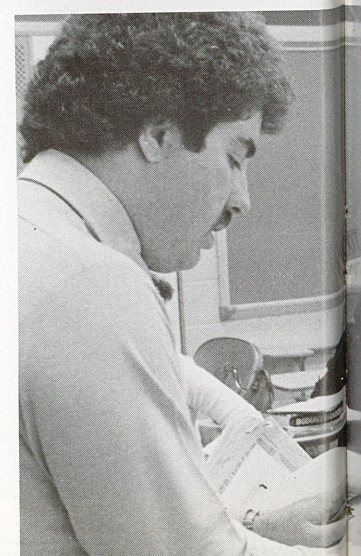

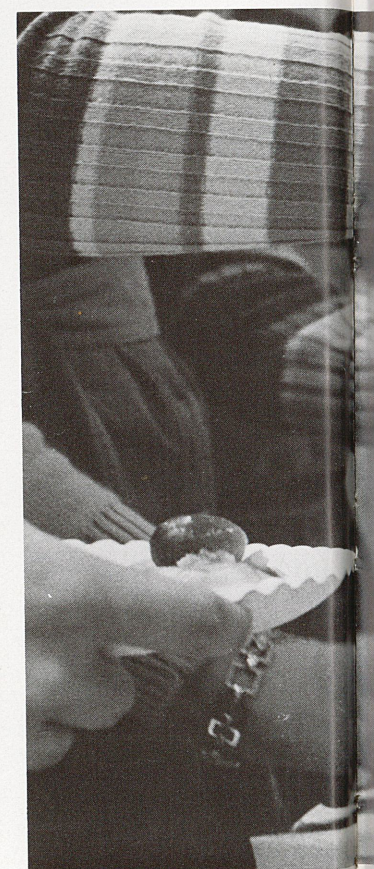

y to go because . . .
 . classes weren't really all that bad.
 . who really minds a class when you get to eat the "fruits of your labors".
 . you got to be creative in art class.

t of a class of 30, everyone saw ame vase, but nobody's sketch oked quite like yours.

y to go . . .
 . you will never find another cafeteria
 table more comfortable than the one you take your 8th period nap on.
 . pool class instead of cals never drew too much opposition.
 . you will never get work as easy as those individual assignments that turned into group projects.
 . there will be no more good times
 mixing chemicals that you were explicitly not to.

to go when it means . . .

an end to hiding out in the A.V. room.

leaning on the same register at the same time every day for 180 days and finding it has to be passed on to someone else.

free time becomes empty time when it's no longer filled with friends.

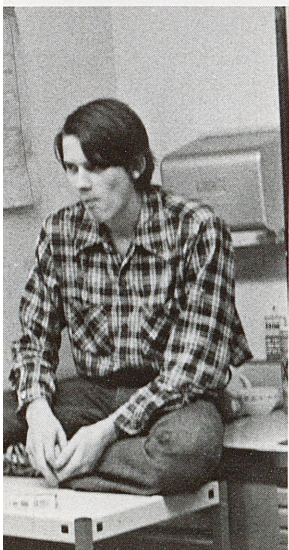

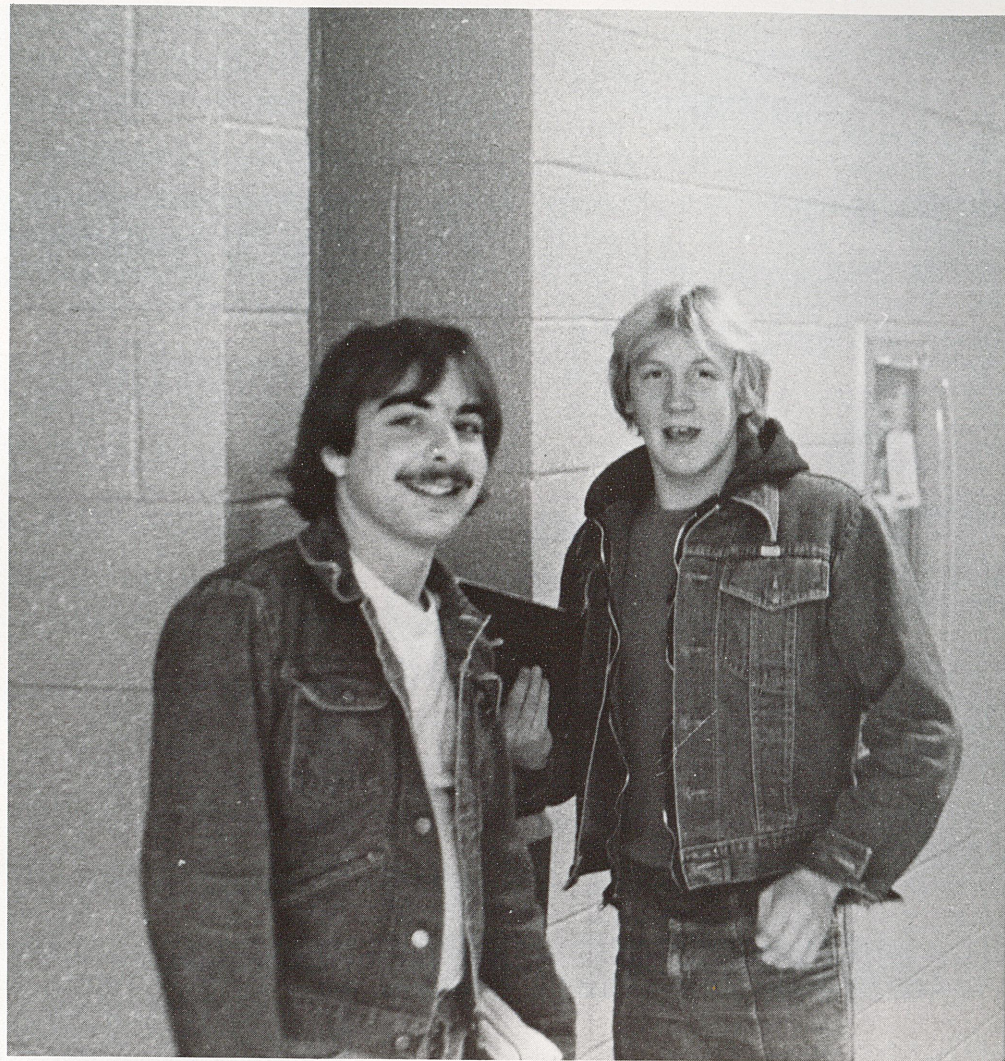

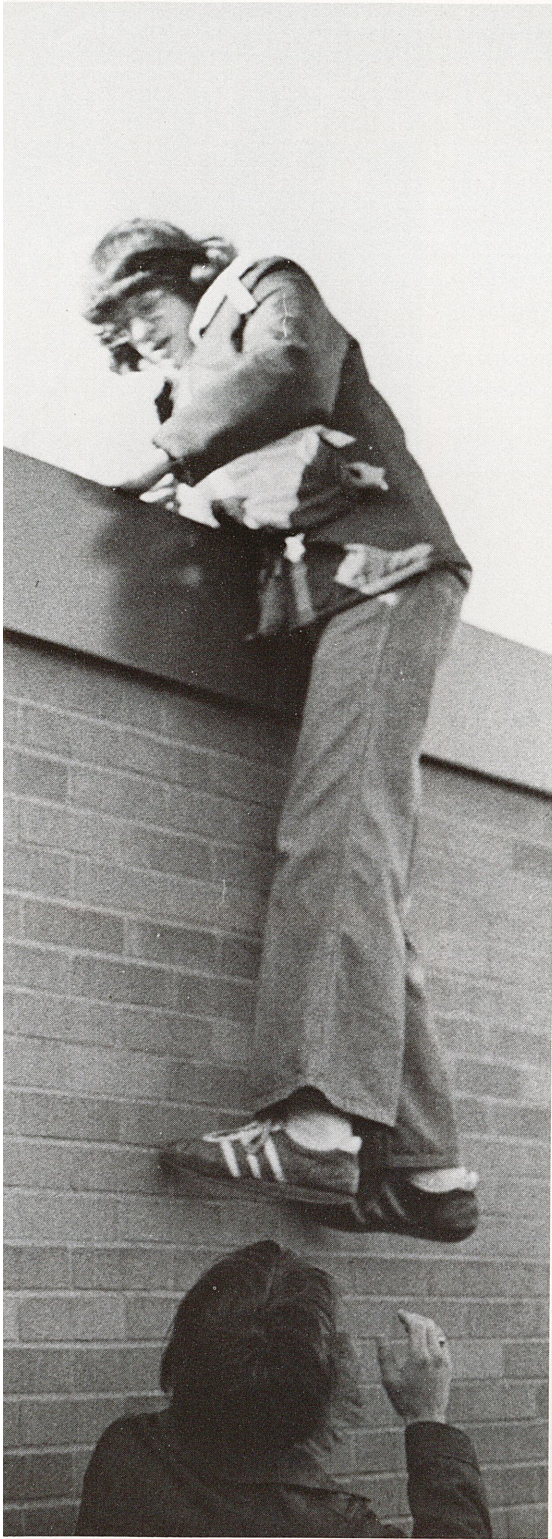

missing those infrequent times when your friends break through their classroom roles and act like their true self.

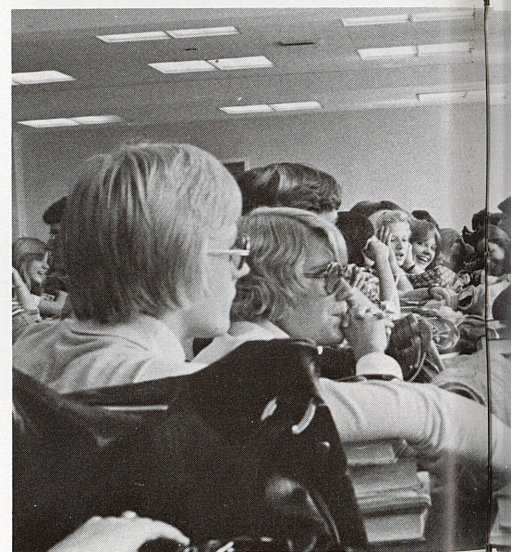

memories of the year will be made not only classroom occurrences but of those things that happened out of

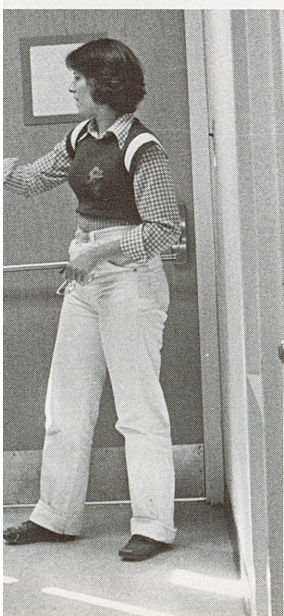

to go after . . .

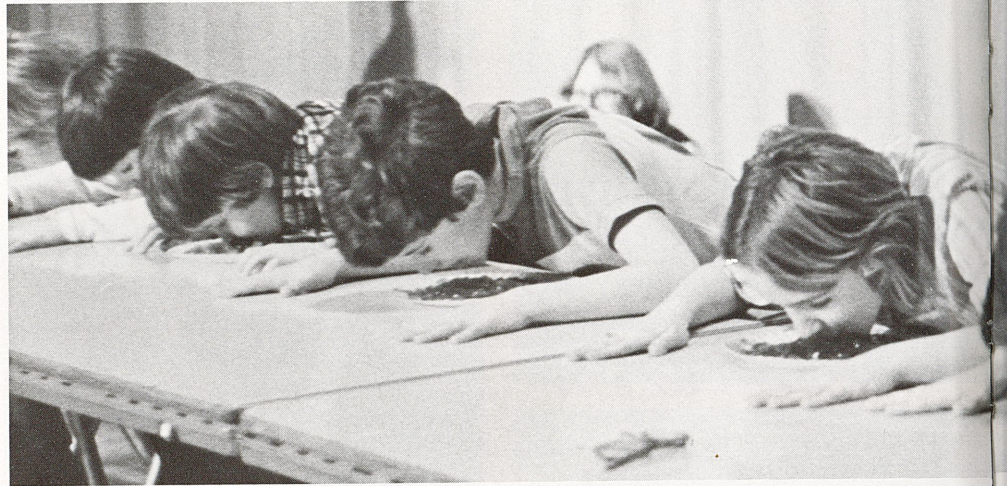

finding the thrill of "goofing off" is gone when it's not done in school. discovering teachers have other facets than just the one you see in the classroom.

 losing the prestige of being the president of a club.
 being forced to watch "Land of Lost" because there no more Saturday morning practices.
 realizing that it's your last game as a big "K" senior.

ns like the only time spent in eroom was on the first day out schedule cards and the ay to pick up your report card.

to go when . . .
 everyone promises to bring in money for the door decorations, leaving you —$1.83.
 you won't get the door-to-door service for your favorite doughnuts or cookies.
 all that is left of your homecoming mum is the football that was on top amidst the dried pile of crumpled petals.

leaving your friends it took so many years to get to know and starting all over.

sharing the embarrassment with a friend who just got a standing ovation for dropping their lunch tray.
we shared not only gym clothes, assignments, hassels, and lockers but also unforgettable moments.
because your tight gang of friends is made up of individuals who will inevitably drift apart, until the gang is no more.

aiming your life in a different direction from everyone else and wondering how you're ever going to make it.

though friendships weren't always ut problems, they just made the tationship that much stronger.

the empty feeling you're left with when your new friend has to return home—and its 3,000 miles away.

The school year comes to a close.
The weeks that seemed endless suddenly find an end. We were sorry to come at first, but now we're sorry to go.

Sorry to go . . .

. . . a time when words cannot express the emptiness that you feel but the feeling is there any way.

. . . having the day come when you have to stop and evaluate what you did with these 12 years, 1/6 of your life.

You're friends say they'll keep in touch, but you know they won't.

Your teachers say come back and see them, and you know you won't.

Maybe some day it won't matter, but right now it hurts a little.

Now the events we once looked forward to are just memories and we must "Reach for the heavens and hope for the future."

Isn't it strange
That princes and kings,
And clowns that caper
In sawdust rings,
And common people
Like you and me
Are builders for eternity?

Each is given a bag of tools,
A shapeless mass,
A book of rules;
And each must make—
Ere life has flown—
A stumbling block
Or a stepping stone.

BASEBALL

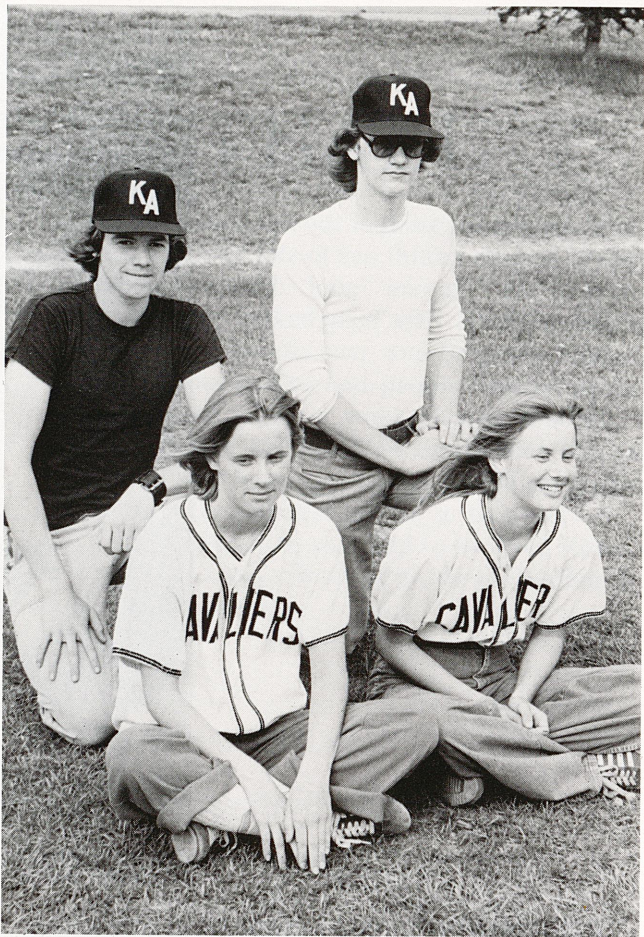

We have to admit that winning 14 games out of 19 isn't really all that bad. In fact it's quite an accomplishment. But then how could we fail? We had 'pro athletes' like "Turtle" and "Red" to help us out. And of course we can't forget "Nanook" and his knack of sliding into home. Randy Waddell also piled up a fantastic .544 batting average. And despite all the games and practices that got rained out, we still managed to uphold the Kiski tradition of being winners no matter what the circumstances!

SOFTBALL

Our season started out looking promising. The team looked great and we had lots of fun falling around in the mud, when the rain stopped long enough for us to practice.

The fielding looked good with Rosh in center field, LG Scum knocking people over, and Briggsies fantastic pitching.

Scores at our games and people beating us up afterward, made it sound like we were playing football. During the games we made our share of errors and lost our tempers, but on the way home we always ended up laughing, even if Miss Soska did yell and tell us to be quiet.

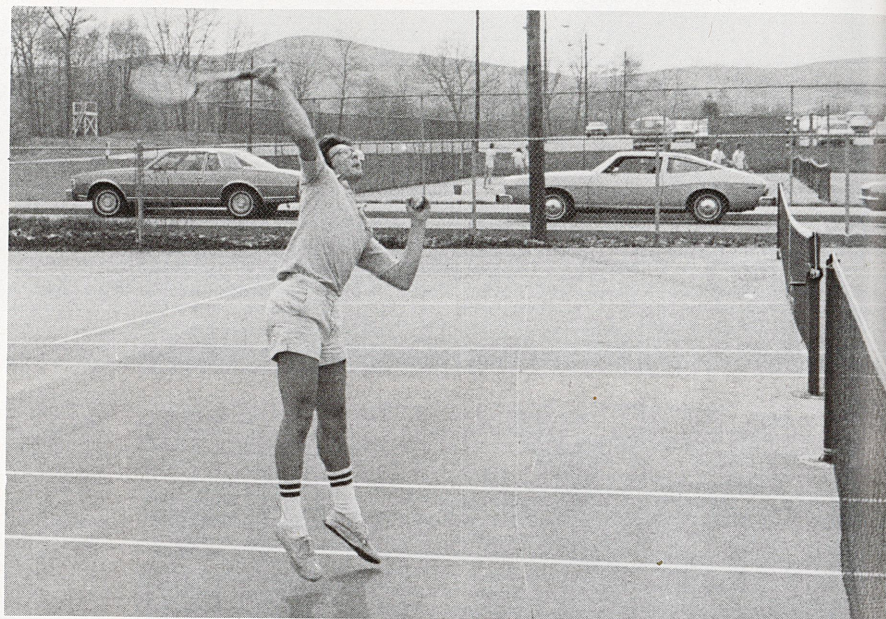

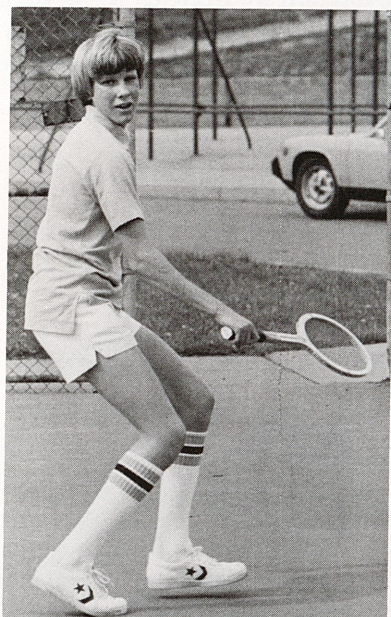

The highlight of the year had to be when Robin spilled pop on everyone's head and we all threw each other in the shower after the last game.

TENNIS

When we first started tennis practices, we had high hopes for this year's team. But no one dreamed about how successful we would be this season.

When we looked around us at practice, we were startled to see girls! And two of them took up their rackets and joined our team. One thing is for sure, we don't cut them any slack just because they are girls!

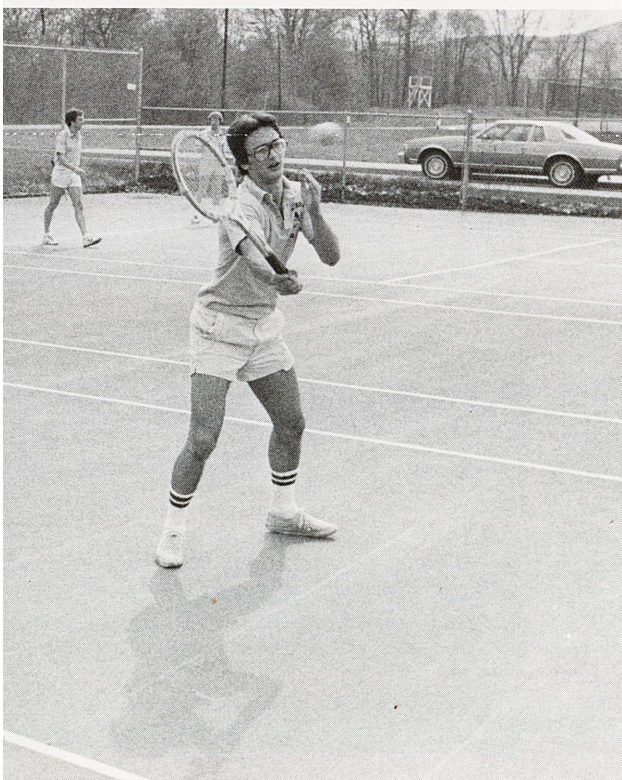

We've had our bad moments, every team does . . . like playing in the snow and the rain, and watching Tony throw his racket around when he's mad.

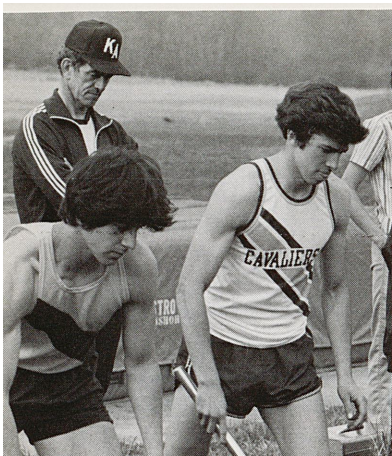

But we've had our good moments too . . . like laughing at how the coach drives, and anticipating the arrival of our tennis jackets (which came down to our knees).

We wish we had more fans, though. It's nice to hear one certain friend of Joe's beeping the car horn everytime he scores a point.

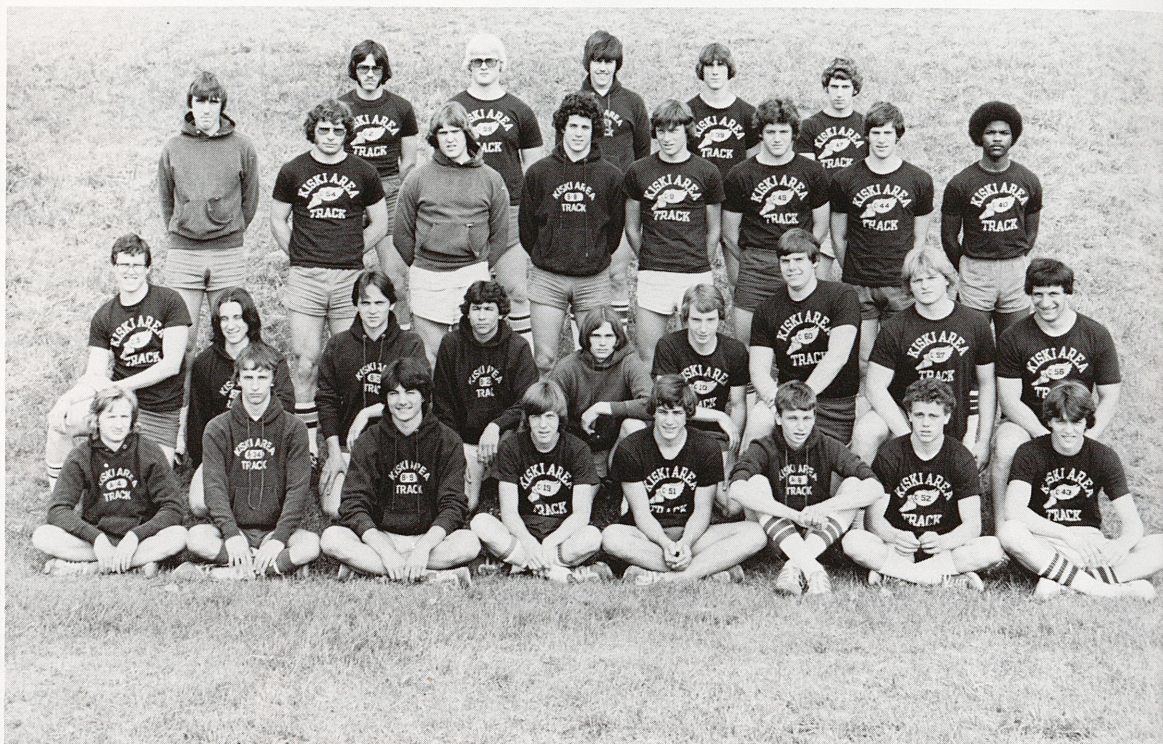

And we're looking forward to next season because we will be better.

We are a team, and we wear our "Big K" jackets with pride!

TRACK

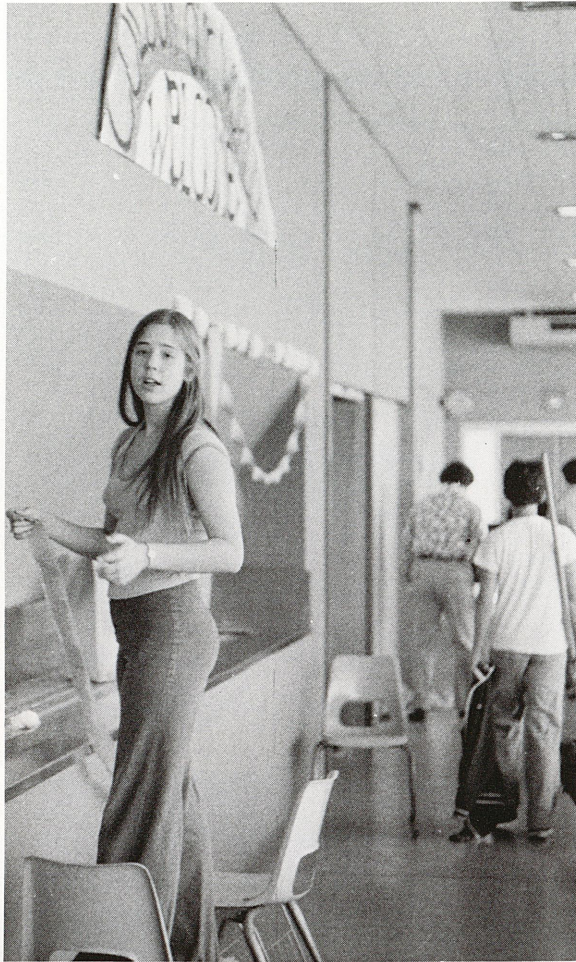

From early March until May, a certain group of students spend their time after school running in circles, jumping, and throwing things. Escaped crazies? No. At least, we don't think so. It's the Big K track team.

The team works hard, along with the coaches, Mr. Halli, Mr. Wickes, and Mr. Hauser, and the managers, Norman Lewis, "Skeeter" Hiler, Jerry Pettigrew, Tim Bortz, and Chris Toaso. With their help, we can get through bad weather, tough opponents, and even Joe Roscher's off-key singing.

But if the work is hard, the rewards are more than worth it. Like A 5-2 record, including wins over Norwin and Derry, 2 of the best teams in the county. And four new school records, in 120 high hurdles, long jump, high jump, and javelin throw. And we sent 4 Cavaliers to the W.P.I.A.L. Finals: Rich Rielly in the 2 mile run, Rick Hobbins in shot put, Roy Jackson in triple jump, and Tim Platt, who took third in javelin.

Above all, we have the knowledge that we did our best, and always will, because that's what competition is all about.

SOPHOMORE DANCE

Our Sophomore Dance this year was really a time to remember. The decorations of balloons and crepe paper were something to look at and the pizza was good! Many of us danced (when a record was left on long enough!)

All of us girls had fun watching the guys rip-off carnations and baby's breath and wearing them as their boutonnieres.

Even though it was really crowded and we were tripping over each other's chairs and dresses, we still had fun. We'll keep these memories close to us, for a long, long time.

PROM

Most of us have had the prom on our minds since February. And when we heard on the morning announcements "Will the hall decorating committee please report to the lower cafeteria activity period" or "all prom planning members report to 206" we knew we had better get busy finding a date. When we encountered members of the opposite sex, we suddenly stopped teasing them and started being extra friendly.

And when we were labeled as "taken" we all rushed down to the Mall to try on a half-million gowns, or to get fitted for tuxes and suits.

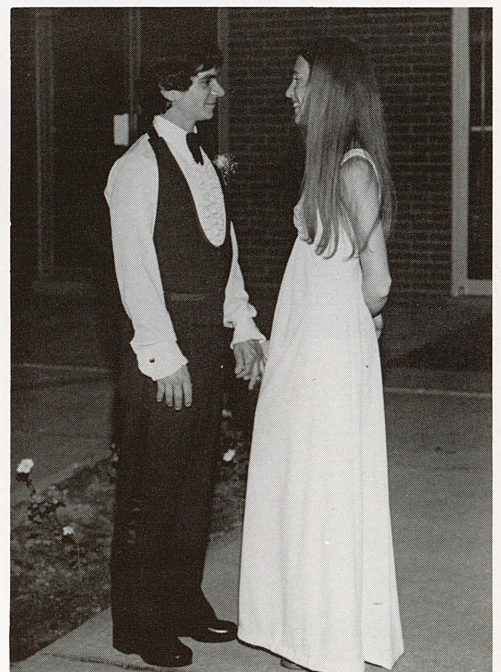

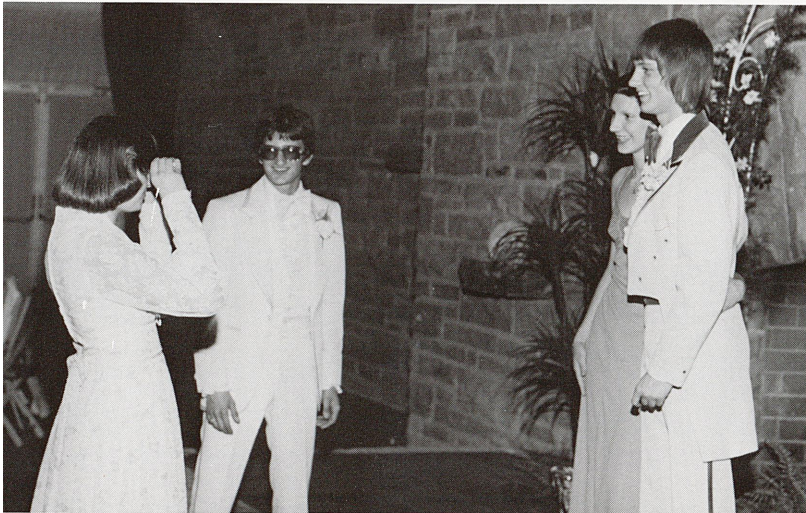

"Mom, I don't want that gown, it's ugly!" or "these pants don't fit right!" were familiar cries.

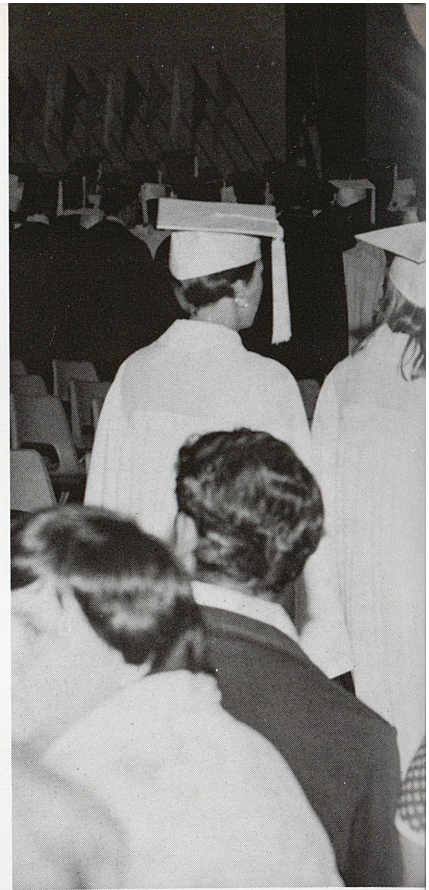

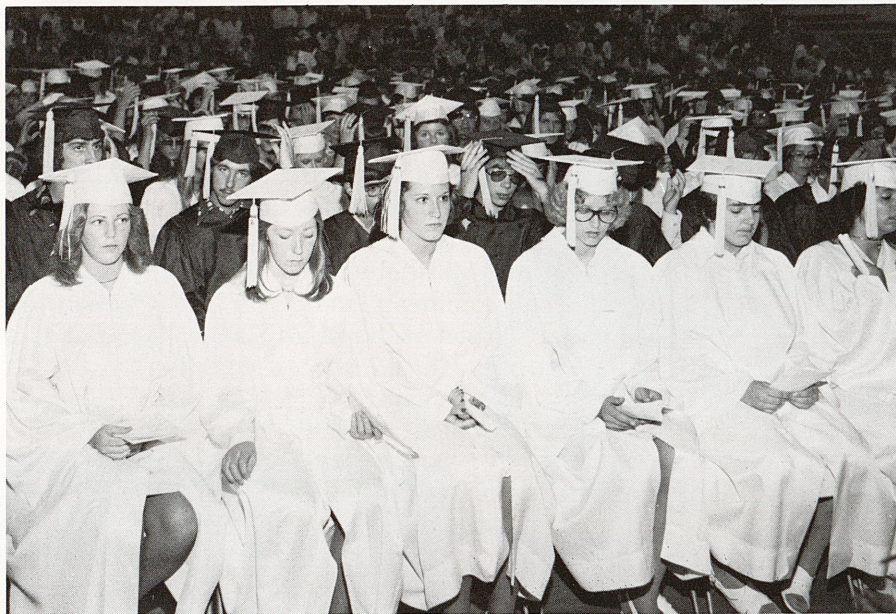

And so there we were on May 20 . . . shakey, nervous, worried. We did our hair about 20 times, and tried to control our feelings of extreme panic. When we experienced the endless pictures, flash-cubes, and admiring relatives, we wondered if it was worth all the fuss.

Finally we were there! We laughed at each other's sleepy eyes as the night progressed, forgetting our shyness. We'll always remember "Ang" under hypnosis and his imitation of Mr. Kinkead and Mr. Morea, and the "Grand March" will be forever stamped in our minds.

Most of us agree that the prom was everything we dreamed it would be, and more.

GRADUATION

We looked forward to it ever since grade school and now it was here—graduation. GRADUATION . . . Now it kind of scared us as we thought of all the responsibilities the future had for us. And yet we knew that we'd somehow get by.

Although it rained (and rained, and rained!) our spirits weren't dampened as we thought of all the parties that were ahead in the next few days. We exchanged congratulations with our friends and maybe even a tear or two.

But after all the partying was over and when we realized that "Future is in the heavens, success is in our will," we sat back and smiled with a sense of accomplishment. We will always remember all the good times we had and be proud to have graduated from the Big "K".
